Council's Act Not Surprise

By FRANK LaPIERRE

In a not-surprising move the Daly City council Monday reversed an earlier stand and voted to go back into the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG).

Observers throughout the Bay Area felt Daly City, pressured by threats of curtailment of federal funds, had little choice in the matter and their recent decision had been "only a matter of time."

But councilman Frank Pacelli, the city's representative to ABAG, said he had other reasons for asking the city council to move back into the nine conty, 81 city regional body less than three months after it quit in a huff.

"In the past few months, legislation has been introduced by Senator Eugene McAteer which will create an eleven man commission with the final report scheduled for January 1969, proposing some form of regional government—either mandatory or voluntary," Pacelli said.

He said the effect of the new study commission will be to place a two-year moratorium on ABAG's current proposals now pending before the State legislature.

"Every indication appears to point to Assemblyman John T. Knox and Senator McAteer agreeing on the formation of this commission and quickly passing this legislation through the legislature."

"In light of these new developments, and since our chief concern throughout Daly City's difference of opinion with ABAG has been the lack of proper study and communication, I cannot in good conscience ask Daly City to continue to remain out of ABAG," Pacelli explained to his fellow councilmen during Monday's meeting.

The new bill is designed to study all forms of regional government in the Bay Area and pass on their recommendations to the legislature prior to the two-year deadline in 1969.

One of Daly City's major complaints against the organization was the lack of time to study proposals.

"It is important now that we rejoin ABAG and take an active, constructive part in creat-

Kindergarten Registration Today in D.C.

Formal registration of kindergarten-age children will be conducted today in the Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City.

District Supt. Frank Greenwood said children whose last names begin with A-L will sign up from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Youngsters, M-Z, will be registered from 1 to 3 p.m., he said.

Parents may register their children at the school nearest them that offers kindergarten class, though, Greenwood said, "This does not necessarily mean this will be the school the child will be attending."

Stop School Construction —Teachers

By WILL THOMAS

Local 1481 of the American Federation of Teachers Monday night urged all work on Serramonte High School be stopped to save "an estimated annual savings in both administrative costs and capital outlay expenditures" of $100,000.

That recommendation was one of several AFT proposals to show trustees of the Jefferson High School District and its administrators where budget savings could be achieved.

The unit made the suggestions durng its annual presentation of proposed salaries and benefits for classroom teachers.

The AFT outlined five major "demands:"

A district policy establishing a maximum class size, an increase in the instructional supplies budget, a substantial increase in pay and fringe benefits, extra pay for assigned extra-duty for all teachers, and, a 45-minute lunch period, instead of 30 minutes, for students and teachers.

The Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association, also delivering its formal proposals Monday, urged the 1967-68 salary schedule range from a base of $6,650 (a 5.6 per cent hike) to $12,970 (a 6.1 per cent increase) for a teacher with 12 years' experience and 6½ years of college credit.

The associaton also recommended that teachers with an earned master's degree receive

Area 'Youth Opportunity Day' Event

Jobs for young people — where they are and how to get them — will be the topic of an all-day meeting at the Daly City War Memorial Building May 27.

Titled "Youth Opportunity Day," the conference will focus on the ways in which young people can go about getting employment on both a long-term and short-term basis. Representatives from the State of California Youth Opportunity Center and Occupations Industrial Center West, and Industrial Training Program, will be in attendance.

Additionally, it has been announced by Molly Weintraub, chairman of the event, that Paul Perez, Jefferson High School District job supervisor, will attend as a resource person.

Mrs. Weintraub urged everyone to "get behind this event, which we feel can make a meaningful contribution to the young people of this area."

One of the ways in which residents can help is to contact Mrs. Weintraub, 755-7686, if the have any jobs which can be done by youngsters in the 13-15 age group. This information will be passed on to interested youngsters in search of work.

Members of the Youth Opportunity Day Committee include Helen Dilbeck, Youth Advisory Committee; Ivy Dewitt, recording secretary; Betsy Blum, jobs committee; Roberta Gallegos, program committee; Parma Williams, youth committee; Gloria Angua, Westmoor publicity; Phil Randolph, decorations; Hayward Fontenot, entertainment; Cathy Smallwood and Paul Perez, resource persons.

Jefferson Hi District Post Given Tonini

Dr. Harold C. Tonini, principal of Pacifica's Terra Nova High School, has been named assistant Jefferson High School District superintendent for instruction.

Superintendent Ed Morgan announced the appointemnt by trustees late Monday night, following an executive session by the Jefferson board in Daly City.

The 51-year-old Tonini has been principal at Terra Nova since 1960, coming from Paramount Senior High School in Paramount, where he had been assistant principal from 1953.

His first teaching position was at Lakewood Junior High in Long Beach, where he served from 1946 to 1951.

Tonini, who lives in San Bruno with his wife Doris and their two children Carol Lyn and Richard, will move into his new post July 1, Morgan said.

A successor for Tonini at Terra Nova has not been determined. Morgan said notice of that vacancy and other administrative positions, for which the district will accept applications, will be posted this week.

Tonini will fill a position that Morgan has occupied since the death of Dr. John Ivan early in the school year.

The newly appointed administrator has been active in a number of organizations in the district, which includes Daly City and Pacifica.

He is a member of the Daly City-colma Rotary Club, the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and the Terra Nova P-TA, as well as the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the California Association of Secondary Administrators, the California Teachers Association and the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity.

Tonini holds General Secondary Life, General Elementary Life and General Administration Life Diplomas. He received his AB degree from the University of California at Berkeley, and his master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Southern California.

Boundary Meetings To Be Set

Dr. Robert Stout, who is spearheading the University of California's boundary and ethnic survey for the Jefferson High School District, started this week to set up a series of meetings with Parent-Teacher Association leaders in hopes of learning views of the Daly City-Pacifica citizenry.

He said the public meetings, probably would be held at Westmoor for Jefferson-Westmoor parents and other interested persons and at Oceana High in Pacifica, for parents of students attending Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools.

The meetings, Stout said, should not be to present his findings to the public but more to gain the views of these citizens in relation to boundary and to ethnic considerations.

Stout told the board he would consider the value of "koffee klatch" sessions in various neighborhoods.

3-2 Split Vote

Drive-in Wins Bruno Approval

San Bruno councilmen cleared the way for construction of the controversial A&W Root Beer Drive-in at the corner of Jenevein Avenue and El Camino Real Monday night in a 3-2 split decision.

Councilmen Karney Barberian and Donald Risso voted against granting the permit and in favor of an appeal submitted by property owner John Murphy and 19 other residents of the area.

The city's planning commission granted a use permit for the drive-in restaurant in February, over objections of 300 petitioners.

Planning commissioners said at that time reports of disturbances at an A & W Root Beer operation in San Mateo was "insufficient reason for denying the firm a permt in San Bruno."

Murphy and scores of other neighborhood residents expressed concern that the drive-in will become a "teen-age hangout" and represent a detriment to real estate values in the area.

Though the area is zoned commercial, there are several residences in the block and a ten-acre apartment house owned by Murphy.

Grady Frazier, owner of the proposed drive-in site, and attorneys for the A & W Drive-in chain testified during the planning commission hearings and subsequent appeal hearing that the firm's operations in several other Peninsula cities are "exemplary businesses" and "a real credit to the area."

The $125,000 restaurant will include both drive-in and "inside restaurant" facilities, and conditions of the use permit require that guards be kept on

S.S.F. Teen-agers

3 'Destruction Derby' Arrests

By DON GRIERSON

Three San Francisco teen-agers were arrested in Pacifica Monday after they allegedly staged a "destruction derby" with two stolen automobiles.

Police said an officer observed two 1967 model cars being repeatedly rammed together at the Linda Mar dump about 3 p.m.

He blocked the road in to the dump area as the "tournament" progressed, and summoned another patrol car to the scene.

As the officers approached, three boys leaped from the badly wrecked cars and fled on foot.

Two of the teen-agers were arrested on foot in the 1300 block of Aspen Drive after a two-mile chase over the Linda Mar hills.

The third suspect, 18-year-old Placido Salinas of 2451 Folsom Street, was arrested by an off-duty San Francisco policeman who lives in Pacifica.

Police said Salinas, exhausted from the chase in the hills, entered the back yard of officer Ray Vailon to get a drink of water from an outdoor faucet.

Vailon, observing Salinas through a window, became suspicious and held the youth at gunpoint until Pacifica officers arrived.

Police said the automobiles, an expensive American-made sports car and a new sedan, were "almost totally destroyed" in the battering contest. Both cars were reported stolen over the weekend in San Francisco.

Two of the boys arrested are juvenile, officers said, and have been turned over to San Francisco youth authorities.

Salinas was booked at the South San Francisco jail on charges of automobile theft.

Union Asks School Elimination

an additional annual consideration of $250 — the same with doctorate holders.

It suggested an optional croice fcr sabbatical laeve be implemented: After esven years of teaching in the district, a teacher should have a choice of taking eitrer one-half pay for a ufll year, or full-pay for six months.

Hourly wages of from $6.50 to $7 for evening adult class instruction, driver training and summer school was proposed, as well as $6.75 to $7.25 for home teachers.

Two days' leave a year for teachers to conduct personal business was asked.

The class size was regarded by AFT as "the single most important factor influencing the quality of education in this district."

It was pointed out that during the first semester of this year over 2,000 students in the district were enrolled in English classes, with 30 or more in each class.

"We believe these classes are too large and that the education of many of these children will be seriously hindered," the AFT stated.

The AFT also seeks an increase over the $20 per student allowed for instructional su-p plies. It tsated that three years ago the budget was reduced from $23.

"Experience has shown," the group declared, "that this was an unwise move in the rising equipment costs, and with the advent of increasingly sophisticated instructional materials."

It was asserted, "Teacher salaries in this district do not adequately reward teachers for the services they are rendering," and the AFT wants an 8 per cent iscrease in pay, an 11-step pay schedule, the elimination of hurdle requirements, continuation of career increments and an increase in fringe benefits, as well as the continuation of master-teacher pay for supervision of student teachers.

Fringe benefits sought include increased medical coverage and dental insurance for teacher and family, fully paid by the district; an increase in sabbatical leave benefits; three days of paid, non-accumulative leave to take care of personal business; and increased life insurance coverage.

The AFT claimed the present 30-minute lunch period is "too short a period of time for a relaxed, enjoyable, and healthful lunch."

In demanding the extended lunch period, AFT explained, "We do not feel that the loss of two or three minutes from each period, or even the reduction of each period to 50 minutes, would in any way decrease the quality of instruction."

More "effort" and "enthusiasm" will result, it said.

The AFT also had some separate "recommendations" for the board to consider:

Budget procedures shoudl be improved to better reflect the top priority educational needs of the district. (A Local 1481 spokesman rated teacher considerations as top priority.) Staff assignments should be changed, to remedy the serious over-crowding of classes and to provide greater economy in the operation of the district. Serious consideration should be given to the development of the program of teacher aides;

A research program under the direction of the subject field committees is "absoluely essential," five minimum days should be set aside annually for curriculum work, a special schedule of "released time" for department heads should be adopted.

To gain "improved instruction for less money," AFT proposed the elimination of the directors of instruction and guidance, attendance supervisor, plus reduction in the number of administrators in closed schools during the summer.

Additionally, AFT would replace teachers on lunch room supervision duty with classified (non-teaching) employes, encourage principals to teach one period a day, and assign assistant principals to teach a given number of periods, in proportion to student population.

An AFT spokesman said elimination of Serramonte would not only save the district money, but allow expansion or introduction of specialty programs that only can be initiated in larger high schools.

The Jefferson Coaches' Association, which previously submitted its proposals on extension of extra-pay for additional activities, made a formal request for the board to make "coaching pay part of a permanent program" and that this proposal be financed with the recreation (community service) tax.

Daly City Goes Back to ABAG

ing a proper regional agency that will be truly representative ana responsive to the people," Pacelli said.

In a meeting with Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett and City Mgr. Edward Frank recently, Housing and Urban Development (HUD) official Don Pollard threatened to cut off pending federal funds for the city unless they rejoined ABAG.

"The question is, can Daly City afford to lose this money (by staying out of ABAG)?" Lycett asked the council.

The city has applied for some $70,000 in federal funds for a General Plan. Officials expressed fear this amount would be cut off if they stayed out of ABAG.

Nineteen delegates from throughout the state were expected to meet in Sacramento Tuesday as part of the Home Rule Committee to work out problems surrounding the regional government concept.

Golfer Loses Equipment To a Thief

More than $400 worth of golfing equipment was stolen from an automobile parked off Grand Avenue in South San Francisco Monday, police said.

Golf clubs, balls, shoes, slacks, a sweater, and a portable radio were taken from a car belonging to Stanley Jonah of Millbrae, officers said.

Total value of the property taken was estimated at $413.

Market St. Improvement Area Asked

A small, but determined band of Daly City homeowners invaded the council chambers Monday night seeking support in their battle with the county to have some six blocks bordering Market Street improved.

The proposed improvement area, which the group branded "unsightly and an eyesore which degrades nearby homes" includes that area west of Hillside Boulevard between Price and Market streets.

The immediate signalization of the Hillside-Market Street intersection was also asked in an effort to protect children attending school in the area.

Led by Hillside Homeowners' Improvement Association Official Lora Todesco, the group told the council they were "grateful that our elected officials have recognized the need for improvement" in the area concerned and asked for support in their meeting with San Mateo county supervisors Tuesday.

Also expected to meet with the County Board of Supervisors are several landowners adjacent to the area.

The landowners have been equally vigorous in their protest of any improvements being made and the establishment of an assessment district in the rea.

Mrs. Todesco said her organization had, for the past two years, "presented our problem, appealed for support and now await a decision."

"We have done all this in an orderly fashion — without hysteria, publicity, protest or demonstrations," Mrs. Todesco said, adding, "We feel the matter is of vital importance for pedestrian safety and urban improvements."

duty during night hours of operation.

It is expected to bring in $12,000 to $13,000 in sales taxes annually.

Frazier has owned the site since 1965, and testified during the hearings that he has received no return from his investment since that time, while paying $1,500 per year in property taxes.

Both planning commissioners and councilmen expressed regret that some more suitable use "such as a bank" could not be made of the site, but Frazier and owners of adjacent property in the block have been unable to agree on terms of a joint development.

The council acted on Murphy's appeal after receiving a favorable report on the project from the city's traffic safety commission.

Dozen Draftees A Month Refuse Oath Step

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The longest journey for some one dozen young men each month is only a step away.

That's how many draftees refuse to take the step which signifies their willingness to enter the armed forces of the United States.

Did Muhammed Ali (nee Cassius Clay) spark this movement when he recently refused to take that fateful forward step into uniform?

"Absolutely not!" Marine Lt. James Hillman, officer in charge of the Oakland Induction Center, told The Times.

"We get one or two young men who refuse to take the step at every ceremony," Hillman said. "And Clay's rebellion against military service has had no visible effect on this matter.

What happens when an inductee refuses to participate in the ceremony and step forward, Hillman was asked?

"I ask them to accompany me into an outer office for counseling. In front of witnesses I ask them if they understand the penalties for refusing to take the oath and then I escort them back outside and repeat the ceremony," veteran of 15 years with the Marine Corp explained.

The second time around an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is standing by "for the convenience of the government and the youth involved."

(Refusal to take the oath is a Federal offense).

If the draftee refuses to acknowledge his induction after the "counseling" he is arrested and charged accordingly, Hillman said.

The change carries a five year prison term, $10,000 fine or both.

And the government hardly ever loses!

"In court the draftee is asked if he still refuses to enter the service. It's either yes or no. If the answer is 'yes' then he's guilty. And if it's 'no' we give him the oath again," Hillman said.

More than 600 young men are inducted at the Oakland center monthly — many white friends protest outside the gates with placards denouncing the military, the war in Vietnam and the country in general.

"Some of the youngsters get carried away and have landed a few 'protests' on my jaw from time to time while I was counseling them," Hillman, whose jurisdiction covers all of northern California and parts of Nevada, said.

Hillman said there are presently some 8 awaiting action for refusing to be sworn into the military.

There are three induction centers in California — Oakland, Fresno and Los Angeles. All handle enlistments and inductions.

How does Oakland stack up to other such centers around the nation, Hillman was asked.

"In Boise, Idaho there has been only one refusal in the past two years and none in Jackson, Mississippi. However, L.A. is about even with the Bay Area on refusals," Hillman said.

There is no set pattern on the type of person refusing to take the oath.

"Students rich and poor. Hippies and squares. Religious and otherwise. All types have refused to step forward at one time or another," the tough Marine Crop officef said.

This Wednesday, like last Wednesday and, perhaps, next week, some 150 young men will line up to hear Hillman recite, "You are about to be inducted into the Army of the United States. . . ."

Most will step forward as most do every Wednesday that the oath is administered.

But Hillman expects one or two to remain rooted to their spots, refusing to take that first step which might lead all the way to Vietnam.

S.S.F. Home Set Afire By Cigarette

The fire started at the Mike Losberger residence, 3411 Olympic Drive, about 7 a.m., the department reported.

Smoke and fire damage from the blaze was estimated at $400-$500.

Another fire occurred at the Coret of California building at 494 Forbes Boulevard.

Firemen said a box of sawdust on the second floor of the building was ignited by a cigaret Tuesday afternoon, and apparently smouldered through the night. The fire burned through the floor during the nigh.t

Sandra Tate Is 'Miss DC'

By WILL THOMAS

Sandra Tate, blonde, 17 and judged the fairest of six finalists, Thursday won the "Miss Daly City" title at South San Francisco Elks Lodge pageantry.

Preferring blondes all the way, the judges named Robene Brown, 19-year-old beauty school student, first runner-up, and Cindy Valdez, 17, a Westmoor High student and an usherette at Candlestick Park, second runner-up.

Kentucky-born Miss Tate captured the title at 11:30 p.m., after parading on the runway in both swimsuit and gown before five judges, George Smith, Mildred Bartel, Fred Tautenhahn, Bob Wong and Joan Ellison.

Miss Tate, standing trim at five-foot-five, recieved the crown of her new "office" from Miss Vivien Reiger, last year's lovely winner who later became (and is) the Floral Fiesta Dream Girl.

In addition to Miss Tate and the two runners-up, three other misses had been advanced to the finals from preliminary judging at Westmoor High School on April 19.

They were Sandy Conlan, 18 (38-22-36), a Westmoor student who likes modern dancing and "shoots a mean game of pool"; Synthia Lockamy, 19 (35-23-35) a native of Germany who came to the U.S. as a cihld; Steph Sutton, 17 (35-23-35) who hates the local "rat-race" and hopes to live "in Northern California among the pines, if possible."

A dinner and a fashion show preceded the beauty pageant, attended by nearly 150 persons.

The styles event featured former Miss Daly City title-holders and previous contenders for the crown as models.

The roster of models included Mary Cunningham Hadding, Miss Daly City of 1958; Nancy Angelot Padreddii, 1962; Susan Thorne, 1962; Claudia Smith MacBride, 1963; Susan Bernard Dolloso, 1965; Gloria Morrissey, runner-up, 1965; Pat DeBernardi, a finalist, 1966.

The first Miss Daly City, Janet Watson (1955) and the 1964 title-winner Karen Soltau, were hostesses.

Mona Baker was the fashion show commentator, describing styles from H. Liebes, Casualaire, J. C. Penney, Bartel's Fashions and Celestine House of Styles, of the Westlake and Skyline Shopping Center.

Master of ceremonies for the beauty event was Dean Weber, former KSFO disc jockey now a free-lance announcer and bit actor, who worked recently as an "extra" in the filming of the Julie Christie film, "Petulia" in the Bay Area.

Weber was a creditible last-minute substitute for KSFO radio personality Jack Carney, who could not appear because of illness.

Weber conducted brief "interviews" with the finalists during their second appearance on the ramp, in gowns.

The girls first paraded in swim suits, in colors and styling of their own choice.

Miss Tate, the subsequent winner, who said she wanted to be an airline jet stewardess and also has ambitions to further her dramatic interests, wore a leopard-spoted swimsuit to display her 34-22-35 features.

For judging in gowns and the "conversation" with MC Weber, Miss Tate wore a gown of white lace over a blue bodice. The skirt back overlapped and there were two small bows at the back of the empire waistline.

First runner-up Robene Brown (34-24-34) wore a designed pink suit for her first trip up the ramp; later returned in a gown of white lace over a green satin bodice, which featured a satin bow in the back.

Second runner-up Cindy Valdez (36-24-37), wore a white swim suit and a pink taffeta sheath of white lace over blouse.

The girls were judged on beauty, personality and poise.

Master of Ceremonies Weber said the judging was "unusually close." After the girls had paraded for the final time, the judges went to another room to review their scoring.

The semifinals had been similarly close. Judges of that contest last month were unable to select five girls as instructed and the six beauties were sent to last night's competition as a result.

The Elks' lodge was abundantly decorated with flowers. Table centerpieces were fashioned of yellow and white Dutch iris, red carnations and foliage in golden containers. Flanking the Dick Vartarian Trio, which set the mood in soft musical tones, were red gladiolus and carnations and white and yellow Dutch iris. Pink rhododendrons and palm flanked the trophies on the stage.

For her success, Miss Tate won several awards from area businesses and an opportunity to vie for the Floral Fiesta Dream Girl title.

As Miss Daly City, she won a $1,000 scholarship from the La Vonne Valentine modeling agency, a $200 scholarship from the Grimms Model agency, three dinners for two, a wrist watch, birthstone ring, a dinner for four, $70 in merchandise orders, a portrait, jewelry, a bowling ball and other items, including two $25 savings accounts.

The first runner-up won $800 in scholarships and the second runner-up received a $100 scholarship.

The pageant and its companion activities were sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

P. Evert Terminello was contest chairman.

America Still The Opportunity Land

America still is the land of opportunity where a man can rise from poverty to riches, it seems, and there is nothing like a war to get the cash flowing. Members of Congress were given a vivid illustration of this when they heard the story of Thomas Edison Higgins.

Higgins, by his own statement, had 38 cents in his pocket when he saw the possibilities of the Vietnam conflict. Somehow he was able to sell the Agency of International Development on two of his "inventions," a battery additive and a "rust inhibitor," both of which he fashioned from epsom salts and ammonium sulphate.

Though the Bureau of Standards later labeled his inventions worthless, AID had by then financed their shipment to Saigon and Higgins was richer by $370,000.

AID is now trying to explain how it all happened. And the public, which paid for it all, will doubtless be interested to know that Congress, as the saying goes, is investigating.

The Marquee

Grande Dame

Barbara Bladen

The difference between a leading lady and a star is Ethel Merman. She's without peer among the "grande dames" of the theater and is given a medal to show it during the third act of "Call Me Madam" which opened last week at Circle Star Theater.

The full house audience was on its feet cheering the singer when we ran up the aisle at 11 p.m. and that's after she'd just finished three encores of "You're Just In Love" with Russell Nype.

Maybe most of the audience remembered the original which opened with the same three stars in New York 17 years ago. Maybe some of the just felt a glow from watching her go through her paces with the elan of a super star who makes any show glitter from her dynamic personality.

The Irving Berlin songs have been long forgotten and the Lindsay and Crouse musical seldom done. But then it doesn't have much of a plot, only enough to hinge a few songs on (we'd have liked to hear more singing from Merman) and give her and the other girls opportunity to wear glamorous gowns and chic ensembles. They've updated it with plenty of LBJ jokes and references to the ranch, the beagle and the birds.

There's too much talking and not enough singing but that's because we lose patience with the story of an American ambassador to the Duchey of Lictenburg who gets ousted when she forgets her manners. We keep waiting for Miss Merman to sweep back on the stage in another fabulous costume and pull the show up by the tonsils.

IT'S A LUSH PRODUCTION producers Sammy Lewis and Danny Dare have assembled. The orchestra was shakey and weak but the singers set the tempo and the musicians managed to keep up. A show that stars Miss Merman can't possibly drag when shes' onstage. She picks up cues and times her punch lines like a pile driver on overtime.

When presented to royalty, she appears in a stunning white gown that trails on the floor from the waistline. "I don't mind a train," she snorts, "but I didn't want the Super Chief." With that she tugs at her girdle, pulls the train up through her legs, kicks it back out behind her, strides down the red carpeted aisle, curtsies backwards into a prat fall and brings the house down.

She's a marvelous mugger, throwing her lines out into the first ten rows like a baseball pitcher on opening day and flashing that big, gracious, friendly smile across the audience until you've got your money's worth of showmanship. And she's in excellent voice and figure, in case you're wondering. She shows plenty of trim ankle, shapely leg and pretty knees.

Her co-stars hold their own against her glowing personality, very well. Russell Nype plays a square who tells the romantically inclined princess "there's nothing more beautiful than a hydro-electric plant." He dispatches his songs "It's A Lovely Day Today" and "Once Upon A Time Today" with a fine voice and moves about the lavishly decorated stage with a purposeful stride.

RICHARD EASTHAM'S VOICE ISN'T as melodious but he comes across with several pleasant ballads. As the Prime Minister of the tiny municipality, he represents honor and pride in refusing to accept America's magnanimous loan of two million dollars. That costs him his job but he gets the girl in the final scene; Miss Merman being the girl.

The costumes and settings are quite elegant, as befitting palace and embassy parties and Washington society. Zoya Leporska has styled several engaging dance sequences. David Tihmar's direction could use tightening as there are several long, tiresome stretches of dialogue without movement. But maybe it's because nothing is really happening of interest unless Miss Merman is on stage. It's her show and she knows how to play it to the best advantage.

It's worth going just to hear her sing "The Hostess With The Mostess On The Ball" and "The Best Thing For You Would Be Me."

It's Just Plain 'Thornton High'

By WILL THOMAS

On the old, asphalt playground of an abandoned Daly City elementary school has risen, not in height, but in character, a stimulating concept in modern high school education.

Thornton High School is an advancement of a system of special classes for older, generally-low achievers or slow-learners who couldn't keep up with their peers, or had other "problems."

But, at Thornton, where they are happy in five low-slung portable classrooms and a mobile trailer, the term "continuation school," as applied to many facilities of this type, is avoided.

To them, it's plain "Thornton High."

Principal Floyd Gonella and his staff of specially-selected teachers similarly shy away from the idea that some folks have that Thornton is anything like a "detention center" for trouble-makers or problem children.

Thornton educators don't see any of them as "dumping ground" material.

"We're not a 'punishment hole'," Principal Gonella emphasized.

What, then, is Thornton?

"We act," he explained, "as a service to those students who for some various reasons cannot attend 'regular' schools."

Thornton has pupils from throughout the Jefferson High School District system, which until creation of Thornton conducted special "continuation" classes at each school.

When Thornton was given a green-light from trustees, Gonella started selection of a staff that he hoped would have the "knack" for establishing a program of specialized, individual instruction that required "exceptional rapport" between students and teachers.

These hand-picked teachers have devised a challenging program in some 15 subject areas—each tailored to specific student needs.

In reading, for example, Mrs. Phyllis Wood shuns formal textbooks, relying instead on some 24 mimeographed lesson plans that range from third-grade level content to more advanced high school work.

Magazines, Reader's Digest—published books on adult-interest topics written in lower educational grade level style, and other interest-oriented and student-motivating materials are available.

There is little, or no restriction in reading classes—or any other academic and special courses, either—on where a particular student may begin.

The same is true in U.S. history, Gonella points out as another instance, where if the student is interested in . . . say, guns . . . he might start with study of the Western Frontier, working toward more current history.

However, no matter where the pupil begins, must complete the full scope of the course—as required by state statute—before he may be graduated.

"These," he added, "are normal teen-agers with just more problems than others."

Thornton's teachers, so far, tread somewhat successfully that fine, invisible line allowing them their professional dignity as educators while they continue to be "friends" and advisors, Gonella noted.

The principal sees his teachers as special-types "born with" the ability to program effectively the individualized instruction . . . and to gain a rapport necessary to keep the students "interested."

Pablo Perez, who holds a master's degree from USF, where he majored in business administration. Perez directs the special service aimed at "reducing the tension of 'teen-age employment.'" He spends over half his time working with students in the field of work opportunity and experience, Gonella explained.

The most enthusiastic on Gonella's staff is the principal himself, who is a native of Daly City.

His father, Floyd Sr., has worked on the Daly City parks department staff for 25 years.

Gonella has been in the Jefferson High system for ten years.

After obtaining his master's degree from San Francisco State, Gonella started teaching and coaching at Westmoor High in Daly City, moving after three years to Terra Nova in Pacifica as physical education department head.

He later became Terra Nova's Dean of Boys and assistant principal.

Thornton's chief counselor is Miss Shirley Minaker, who directs a "heavy guidance program" that reaches every student and aids in the determination of the "individualized" program.

Gonella said he recognizes that, for some, graduation, will not be possible; yet he is certain at least he hopes—most will leave his school with a more favorable regard for education and a more healthy view of citizenship.

Gonella stressed the seemingly small, yet to him, strategic goal, that this improved "image" will be passed on to tomorrow's children of today's Thornton student.

Elevator in New DC Civic Center?

Frank LaPierre

YOU HEARD IT FIRST — Daly City councilmen are split (as a body — not as individuals) over whether to build an elevator at the new civic center. Developer Tom Callan gave the council "what for" the other p.m. after climbing the impressive stairway from the parking lot to the council's study chamber on the second floor of the building. Actually the second floor is equal to a 'normal" third floor of a building. And some city hall personnel working in the basement are grumbling about having to shuttle back and forth between their offices and the top floor.

OUR EDITOR GOOFED on the measurements of the new Miss Daly City — Sandra Tate. Her real statistics are 34-22-35 (NOT 34-25-37). And THAT'S MORE LIKE IT!

LET THE RUMORS FLY — Would you believe a city of 500,000 on bay fill land off Brisbane? Then why accept as Gospel a city of 25,000 on San Bruno Mountain? Fact is, EVERY ACRE of open land (and some not open) is under the planner's microscope. If and when such a "city" is built on San Bruno Mountain, it will undoubtedly be annexed to Daly City. Why Because that's where the only road starts and will eventually branch off to the Old Bayshore District, ending in Brisbane.

Crocker people (owners of San Bruno Mt.) have been in contact with D.C. planners and some councilmen for a long, long time. To date: Nothing except a few pieces of cardboard being moved from one side of a map to the other around gulleys and open space (wanted by the county) — checkmate! Sure, there'll be people living on that mountain SOMEDAY. And SOMEDAY there'll be people living on that garbage dump in Brisbane.

WATCH THOSE PARKING SIGNS come down on Oriente Street adjacent to the Bayshore Elementary School. Seems neighborhood residents have stirred up a storm of protests concerning the limited parking available to them. City officials listened attentively and then plucked 'em down — except for five spaces.

THE ONLY WAY TO FLY — Friend of ours flew in from the East the other a.m. and said the airline he was on had four services — red, white, blue and navy grey. He explained: "We didn't have any in-flight movies in the navy grey section. Instead some little old lady in a flight uniform kept passing around snapshots."

POOLING THEIR TALENTS — Bob Meyers (dance) and Patti Parks (voice) will pool their talents for a super-dooper special Mom's Day treat for the Westlake Senior citizens. The group will perform a special number featuring Will Wagner and Patti. What's this, another Jeanette McDonald-Nelson Eddy duo?? On May 10 at the Westlake Baptist Church.

IT'S ALL THE RAGE — Handing out sample packs of cigarettes at Westlake Shopping Center, we mean. First, it was a matronly woman with Pall Mall samples; next, came The Lark Truck handing out samples and videoing people (There's NOTHING like a . . .) and, finally, the lovely Karryn Heater from Burlingame, whose personality and good looks caused more of a sensation around the mall than all the others rolled together. Oh yes, she handed out full packs of Benson and Hedges.

A REAL SHOCKER — Sign on the side of a road north of here: We Have LSD — Lumber, Screens and Doors.

Our Society's Four Types of Women

Samuel Chandler

There are at least four types of women noticeable in American Society: the planners, the recasters, the adapters, and the unsettled. Each of these four types is represented in a new book, "Educated American Women," edited by Eli Ginzberg and Alice M. Yohalem.

This volume contains twenty-six frank, lively histories of themselves by women who have attended graduate school or professional school since World War II.

While each author writes from her own thoughts and experience, each describes experiences that resemble those of many American women.

All twenty-six women have learned — some painfuly — that no matter what plan a young woman develops for her life and work, her abilty to realize her goal is influenced by the circumstances of her adult life.

THESE circumstances are listed in the introductory article of the book, by Mr. Ginzberg and Miss Yohalem. Among those things listed that have far-reaching effects upon today's women is the limitation imposed on a woman by her husband's career. The moves he must make, the time he must spend on his job require adjustments in her career that she must make to save the marriage and raise the children.

Often the husband himself — apart from his career — determines his wife's work and life. Many men hold such a negative attitude about a woman's working that they interpose objections that cause their wives to forego their careers.

On the other hand, the editors find, that some husbands push their wives into further education and work even though they prefer to remain at home with their children.

Another significant set of circumstances results from the presence of children.

A third set grows out of women themselves: their insistence on equality with special consideraion; their desire to remain the "etrnal female" in a world that has no time for it.

IN THE FACE of these and other circumcumstances, the editors are able to group the 26 authors into the four types: The planners, the recasters, the adapters, and the unsettled.

The planners are women who usually know what they want fairly early and arrange their lives in order to realize their goals. They take advantage of opportunities which bring them closer to their objectives; they avoid becoming enmeshed in situations and circumstances that could deflect them from their goals. Many of their actions are conscious and deliberate.

The recasters, like the planners, know what they want, but at some point encounter opportunities which permit them to consider more attractive goals or else they change their goals in the face of obstacles that are presented.

The third type, the adapters, recognize early the inherent fluidity of a woman's life and avoid committing themselves to any particular goal. While they have their preferences, their planning is deliberately open.

The fourth type is the unsettled. These are the women who start as planners or adapters, but do not satisfactorily resolve their search for a meaningful career, or marriage, or both. They are still groping.

Better Business

The American On the Move

Lorene Beasley

With summer vacation approaching, the peripatetic American will be on the move with his family. Luxurious motels, equipped with coffee, stereo music, television and swimming pools compete to give the traveler the best "home away from home."

The motel with a pool is number one choice for most families. The older children can swim and unwind after a long day's drive and in some motels the younger children can enjoy a wading pool.

A pamphlet entitled "How Safe Are Motel Pools?", published by U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, gave the following main contributing factors for pool tragedies: Absence of lifeguards or qualified adult supervision; disregard for good pool conduct; failure to teach the youngsters drowning-prevention knowledge and skills at an early age.

THE MAJORITY of pool drownings are caused by inadequate protection or the lack of protective barriers around the pool during hours the pool is not in use. Few states or communities have laws regulating environmental and lifeguard protection at hotel and motel pools.

The tragedy of a motel or hotel drowing is often the result of parents failing to check the pool or giving their children adequate supervision while in the pool. Two small sisters drowned while 15 others bathers were in the water and a crowd sat around the poolside.

LEAGUE LEAD PRESERVED

Aurigemma Saves One for Warriors

South San Francisco High School is still the undisputed leader in the North Peninsula League baseball race today, thanks to the relief pitching of Bob Aurigemma.

The Warriors' mound ace came into the game in the bottom of the seventh inning with the bases loaded and one out and retired the side, on a strikeout and pop up to preserve a 2-1 victory over Jefferson High School yesterday at Daly City.

South San Frncisco got the winning run in the top of the seventh inning when Jim Dougherty led off with a double, advanced to third on a wild pitch and dented the plate on a squeeze bunt by Bruce Brian. They tallied their first run in the fourth inning when Ron Rumble faked a bunt with a man on third and hit through shortstop for a safety.

Jefferson scored its lone run in the same inning when Russ Runge led off with a single, was sacrificed and tallied on a throwing error by third baseman Brian.

South San Francisco now leads the NPL with a 5-1 record. Jefferson is 5-3 on the season.

Is Clay Getting A Fair Shake?

Le Pacini

I realize that this may not be the most popular thing to say, nowadays, but putting it in plain language, Cassius Clay, nee Muhammad —or is it Muhammad Ali, nee Cassius Clay? — is getting what is know as "the shaft."

The heavyweight title is what I have reference to, not his draft status, which is a matter for the courts to decide and which, we trust, will be decided properly by due process.

When commissions strip Clay of his title and governors refuse to allow him to fight in their states for no better reason than they don't like Clay's morals and-or theories of patriotism, they are establishing dangerous precidents. But aside from that, since when has it ever been incumbant upon a heavyweight champ—or any size champ—to have to be anything other than unbeatable?

Boxing history is filled with heavyweight champs who were as popular as Bluebeard at a Miss America pageant. Jack Dempsey was accused of being a slacker, didn't become popular until the famous Long Count; Gene Tunney was considered an intellectual snob; Jack Johnson commmitted the most unpardonable of all sins when he married a white woman; Max Schmeling was a Nazi; Jim Corbett was, worst of all, a gentleman; Sonny Liston, they said, was a hood; Primo Carnera was a fraud, and a foreigner, to boot; there have also been the boozers, hop heads and, yes, even religious fanatics.

No, Virginia, heavyweight champs have seldom been sterling examples for American youth.

It's an old cliche, but apt. Clay won his title in the ring, and that's where he should lose it. And I'd be the the first in line to cheer the 10 count called over his prostrate body, mainly because I don't like fatheads.

But in the meanwhile, Clay is the victim of politics and a lot of other things, and whether any of us like it or not, he's innocent of draft dodging until proven guilty and NO man or body of men should have the arbitrary right to deprive him of his livelihood — which is fighting — for any reason until his case is legally settled.

Clay should have as much protection from the government as prosecution.

I hope none of Clay's followers read this column and get the idea I'm on their side. I've had to many friends and relatives shot at and die and become scarred fighting for Clay's rights, to champion his cause.

It's strictly selfish, and goes back to those dangerous precidents I mentioned earlier. If boxing commissions and politicians can tell Clay he can't fight because his political and-or religious philosophy is opposed to theirs, I'm worried that some day a Board of Education may take my teaching credential away because I'm a Catholic Democrat who doesn't like P-TA meetings.

Terra Nova basketball coach Don Delbon got the thrill of an illustrious athletic career last week when he played on the same basketball team as Rick Barry.

Delbon, as you may know, plays with the KYA Oneders, the team made up primarily of disc jockeys which travels around the Bay Area playing high school faculty teams and various other "all star" groups to hypo sagging student body treasuries, or, whatever.

Team organizer Johnny Holliday also does the Warrior home games public address work, and asked Barry if he would drop by for a token appearance in the last Oneder game of the year against the Marin Catholic All-Star team at San Francisco City College.

Barry not only dropped by but played the entire game, scoring 33 points even though, Delbon reports, (Don potted 26) he mostly "took it easy and tried to set the rest of us up."

The Oneders built up a 12-point lead and with four minutes remaining benched all the regulars except Barry. The Marin Catholic team, however, was no pushover, having recruited several local ex-college stars, and soon pulled within two points. At that point Barry quit yawning, sunk three quick ones, and the Oneders won by five points.

"You just can't appreciate what a fantastic player the guy is unless you play in a game alongside him," says Delbon.

"He does things like faking a drive, faking to two men as he goes up, faking the shot at the apex of his jump, and then passing off to a man alone underneath the basket. He fed three or four behind-the-back passes to me that almost fooled even me, and at one point he rifled a court-length pass to Holliday (who weighs 150) which was so hard and accurate it almost knocked Johnny off his feet. It actually handcuffed him.

"Barry is just a tremendous athlete. He's a great jumper, he's strong, yet at 6'7 he has the agility and grace of a balerina. Just great body control. He could be anything he wanted to be. I've seen him play softball, for instance, and he has a great arm."

Yes, and on top of that he's young, handsome, intelligent, has a pretty wife, a nice speaking voice, and all kinds of money. Why were we born?

Tiger tracksters, incidentally, recently set a new meet record in the "B" division for the two-mile relay at the Santa Rosa Relays with a 8:30.

The Coastsiders whippped, among others, nationally ranked Pittsburgh High in competition with schools from all over Northern and Central California.

Jim Winterhalter and Ed Dillsaver, both juniors, and Steve Richardson, and Bruce Evans, sophomores, composed the relay squad.

And to set the record straight, no, Terra Nova's freshman baseball team did NOT beat South City's varsity last week as reported in scare headlines in another local weekly. Who they beat was the Warrior junior varsity team which was augmented by four or five varsity players when the JV's, for various reasons, couldn't field a full nine.

A good Tiger win, to be sure, but not quite fair to South City to report as a varsity loss.

And last but certainly not least, Terra Nova chess master Paul DeJarnett has become Chess Champ of Pacifica by beating Oceana quarterback Val Sabuco, in what will become an annual event.

Coaches were Don Delbon for Terra Nova and Layton Jones for the Sharks.

Farm League Signups Now Being Taken

The Daly City Recreation Department is now taking team sign-ups for the 1967 Farm Club League Baseball Program which consists of teams made up of boys in the third through the fifth grades. A coaches' meeting will be held May 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Upstairs Room of the War Memorial Center for all coaches entering a team in this year's league.

Further information on this program can be obtained by contacting Mickey Corso, recreation surpervisor at 992-4500, Extension 334.

'Tangs Defeat Aragon

The Mills High School baseball team finally realized its preseason expectations.

The Vike nine, one of the heavy choices for the Mid Peninsula League title before the season started, upset Capuchino in a convincing style, 7-1, May 3 to knock the Mustangs out of first place for the first time this season.

Cap, which had been 5-0 and held a game and a half lead, lost its second game in a row and dropped into second place with a 5-2 mark behind San Mateo.

The Vikings made the most of their seven hits, getting one in the three-run third and five in the four-run fifth.

Three Runs

Mills exploded for three tallies in the bottom of the third. Paul Sciabica led off with a walk. Rich Haderer then beat out a fielder's choice and Rod Kerrigan walked to load the bases. Then, with two outs, Don Minklein lashed out a three-run double to right field to give Mills a 3-0 lead.

In the fifth, Sciabica, Haderer and Kerrigan all singled to load the bases for the Vikes. With one out, Minklein again came through at the plate, this time smashing a two-run single into right field. Kerrigan then scored on a passed ball and Minklein came home on Cal Falk's single for the final run of the inning.

Cap got its only run in the top of the first when Paul Dye singled, John Bjorner doubled and Mike Costanzo hit an infield single to load the bases. Mike Chiappari was then hit by a pitch to force in Dye.

Jr. Olympics Clinics Set

Track and field clinics for participants in the upcoming Pacifica Recreation Department-Jaycee Junior Olympics will be held Thursday at Terra Nova High School and Friday at Oceana High.

The coaching staffs and track teams at the two schools will operate the clinics, which will begin at 3:30 p.m. each day.

All interested children in the 9-14 age group are invited to participate in the clinics and in the Junior Olympics events May 27. Those interested should register at the playground nearest their home, recreation directors said.

Jeff Is Beaten By T-N

Although any one of three schools has a clear shot at the title, Jefferson High has stepped forward as the team to beat in the North Peninsula League baseball pennant chase.

With the season about half gone, the Tribe moved into undisputed possession of first place May 3 as they rode the arm of pitcher Ron Mini to a 5-1 victory over Half Moon Bay while El Camino was taking its lumps, 6-2 from Westmoor.

The loss by the Colts dropped them one-half game off the Tribe's pace and was their second defeat in seven games. Jeff is now 5-1.

South San Francisco stayed in contention (4-1) with a 1-0 win over Terra Nova on their own diamond.

Mini pitched a three-hitter, struck out five and walked three in winning his second game of the season against one loss. Jefferson took full advantage of three Half Moon Bay errors as they scored a run on each miscue en route to victory.

Reitz Bat Hero

Indian shortstop Kenny Reitz led the attack for the winners in singling twice in four trips to the plate and driving in two runs while scoring one.

South San Francisco got brilliant pitching from Bob Aurigemma but needed it all to get by an equally sharp performance from Terra Nova's Steve Govednik.

Both chuckers came up with three-hit efforts, but the Warriors got two safeties in the second inning to provide the margin of victory. John Dougherty doubled and Bruce Brian singled him home to tally the game's only run.

Aurigemma struck out ten and walked two. He was in trouble only once, in the Terra Nova third when the Tigers had runners on first and second with one out. Aurigemma bowed his neck and struck out the side.

Govednik struck out four and walked none in losing. The defeat evened Terra Nova's record at 3-3.

Area Golfers In Monterey Tournament

Two North Peninsula golfers will play for the College of San Mateo May 15 in the California Junior College golf tournament at Monterey.

Golfing for the Bulldogs in the tournament will be Mike Ray, a Capuchino High School graduate, and Warren Richter, a former Westmoor golfer and last year's winner of the North Peninsula League golfing championship.

CSM finished the season undefeated in the Golden Gate Conference, taking their 17th conference golf championship in 20 years.

The team has a perfect 16-0 record for the season.

Warriors' Title Hopes Grow Dim

South San Francisco High School's hopes for the North Peninsula League dual meet track and field championship were something less than bright today.

The Warriors, who were held to a surprising 61-61 tie last week by El Camino High Scohol, meet unbeaten Westmoor next week. A defeat by the favored Rams will eliminate South San Francisco from title contention.

The tie disappointed Coach Marv Ashby of South San Francisco, who credited El Camino hurler Art Dring as the biggest factor in the upset. Dring won both hurdle events.

The feature event, however, was the shotput, where Steve Nichols of El Camino outdueled Marty McDonough of South San Francisco, 52-7¼-51-8½.

Russ Cottrell of South San Francisco won the 100 in 10.1 and the 220 in 22.8.

Falcons Defeat Burlingame '9'

The Crestmoor High School baseball team continued to impress its opponents in the Mid-Peninsula League with its talented pitching staff.

After upsetting Capuchino previously, coach Steve Gehre's Falcons came back to frustrate Burlingame with a 3-0 victory on the loser's field last Tuesday afternoon.

Then, it was Crestmoor's hurler Glenn Grossman who performed the heroics, setting the host Panthers down on just two hits while striking out 14 batters.

"It was all Grossman," stated Gehre after the contest. "We didn't distinguish ourselves with the bats, but Grossman did a good job and we were able to take advantage of a couple of stolen bases and some errors," he added.

The winners got their first run in the top of the second inning when Doug Jackson doubled and was knocked home by Al O'Brien's single.

Crestmoor added an insurance run in the top of the fourth inning when O'Brien walked, went to second on a past ball and came on in to score on an overthrow to first on Grossman's grounder.

Jeff Dirking tallied the final Crestmoor when he walked, stole second and scored when an outfielder bobbled Steve Waskey's fly.

The men's roster was represented exceedingly well by a bowler from Westlake Pizza Shoppe. Lou Perna rolled games of 195, 188 and 200 on his way to a fine 603 series.

Another four-game league in progress this summer is the Ladies Invitational Leader this week was Odessa Zumwalt with a 168 game and a 652 series. Across the lanes in the men's 805 Scratch Wes Westfall just missed his coveted 600 series. Wes bowled a 598 using a high game of 231.

Doug Hadgins couldn't miss as he was high man in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives with a 642 series. Doug rolled games of 221-201-220. High for the ladies was Betty Monteban with a 181 for a 500 series.

The West Portal Merchants Summer League got under way this week and Gary Moeller came out of retirement with games of 204-208 and 198 for a 610 series. Sue Kirby paced the ladies with a 184 game and 421. Across the lanes the "GET" League had Ruth Strong leading with 181 and 435 while Lee Wiley bowled 202 for a 575 series.

S.F. Naval Shipyard was welcomed back for their summer league and George Walt was high with 202 and 581 series. Ling Wong led the other side of the roster with a 509 series built around a 180 game. Dave Hicks continues to show the way in the Westlake Knolls League as he opened with a 237 game for a fine 586 series.

The Summer Safeway Sleepers had three leading bowlers this past week as two ladies tied for high with 419 series. Arlene Saput did it with a 157 game and Lucy Olager with a 175 game. Chris Parnello upheld the honor of the menfolk with a 205 game and a 533 series.

The ladies in the Morning Glory League shattered the 500 barrier. Rae Magness bowled a new high series for the league with a 578 using her 210 gam as a leader. Emily Drago bowled a 182 game for a 534 series while Jessie St. Pierre also bowled a 182 game finishing with a 517 series. Margaret Zukowski had a 503 series with a 188 game. Margaret also converted the difficult 6-7-10 split while Mickey Cardoza picked up the 5-10.

In the Ladies Starliters League, Boots Toohey led the ladies over a four-game set with a 167 game and a 645 series. Louisa Harvey, on the adjoining lanes in the Western Envelope League, was high with a game of 172 and a series of 504. Leading the men in the same league was Chuck York with a 194 for 577.

Al Lacrouts was not to be denied in the Golden Gate League as he rolled a 218 game and a 575 series while in the 510 Scratch Trio Dave Jones averaged just under 200 for a four-game set as he bowled a 242 game and a 797 series.

Big Tent Coming—

Trucks will arrive next week with the big tent for the May 19-21 parish festival of St. Veronica's Church in South San Francisco.

Theme for the event, proceeds from which will be used to benefit the church's building fund, will be "Carnival of Venice."

It will be held at the church, 434 Alida Way — off El Camino Real.

When the tent is up, committees will begin installing booths and decorations.

Mothers' Day weekend always inspires a flurry of social events honoring Moms with all manner of delicacies, exhibits, and entertainment. Mrs. Anita Taylor of Fairmont, the president of the chapter, will be the official hostess for the gathering.

IN PACIFICA the annual Mothers Day Arts Festival will bow at the Sanchez Adobe on Saturday and run from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. The same hours will be in effect on Sunday, according to Mrs. Shirley Drye, publicity chairman for the Community Cultural Coordinating Committee, one of the participating groups.

This year's festival is under the chairmanship of Lynn and Constance Buchanan with Mrs. Robert Ewald, music chairman; Mrs Sherri Thomas, publicity, and Hermann Loger, the Buchanans, Robert Parker in charge of the posters and road signs. Angel Stewart is chairman of Art in Action, and Bob Southworth, Luther Spraker and Parker will hang the show entries.

This year's event should be quite an extravaganza with the C.C.C.C. holding the annual Book Fair in conjunction with the festival and the A.A.U.W. sponsoring the children's art section. The Teen Council is providing the refreshments, and the Sweet Adelines, and the Jefferson High School District Honor band will provide musical presentations and during the show the San Mateo Chorus will give a concert on Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in the Cabrillo school.

It is the type of weekend event that should provide something to suit the special tastes of almost everyone, so don't fail to drop by for a "look-see!"

Incidentally, it is still not too late to donate books to the C.C.C.C. book fair. Either drop off your used hard shell or paper backed books at the Sharp Park or Sanchez libraries, or in the Linda Mar Shopping Center. Mrs. Betty Turner will be glad to talk with anyone having questions concerning the collection of books or the sale. Piccolotti Is Cub of Month For Pack 369

Cub Pack 369's "Cub of the Month" award went to Doug Piccolotti at that unit's recent pack meeting in the Abraham Lincoln multi-use room in Daly City.

In the season's first baseball game, the Piccolotti's downed the Kramers, 8-4, with Jerome Garden's grand-slam home run the only Kramer hit.

Litz was honored at the pack meeting for selling the most Scout-a-rama tickets.

HERE ARE SOME DECORATING HINTS

From time to time, we are pleased to bring you some decorating suggestions which we trust you will find interesting and perhaps useful. Here are a few that we present this week:

Don't over-crowd your rooms. Most rooms contain too much furniture. Furnish with the least amount necessary to do the job — not the most.

In your living room, try to arrange your furniture according to your family living habits. And, there should be a conversation group so that people may face each other while talking.

If your television set is in the living room, your main seating pieces should face the set.

Be sure to leave open passage-ways so that you can easily walk from one room to another, and from one part of a room to another.

After deciding on your furniture arrangement, color scheme, styles, etc., try to select furniture you can enjoy living with and using, aside from furniture you like to look at. Don't furnish in such a way that the living room is reserved for company and not the family.

The average family furnishes a home just a few times during their lives, so try to select quality and style that is lasting. We are here to serve you — and help you — and we look forward to talking with you when you are ready to shop for any furniture or furnishing ideas.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500. Copyright

Space Available At Girl Scout Camps Up North

Mrs. Charles W. Coppock of Daly City announced this week that summer camps operated by the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council are now open to girls who are not Scouts.

Space is limited, but registrations will be accepted until all the camps are filled, she said.

Of the eight resident camps, three still have space. Camp Sonora, near the Gold Rush town of that name, can take a few more girls during July and August.

36th Anniversary Is Celebrated

Pacifica City Council of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated the anniversary of the international sorority at Princeton Inn.

Approximately 60 persons attended the formal banquet and dance.

The highlight of the evening was presentation of "Girl of the Year" awards, an honor bestowed by each chapter upon one of its members.

Honored were Stella Simmons of Alpha Alpha Omicron; Sharon Vuko of Phi Epsilon Kappa, and Roberta Gould of Tau Gamma.

Two members of Xi Lambda Phi received the Girl of the Year award. They were Donna Shapton and Marion Simmons.

TEENS

May 13 is the date of the Westside Teen Club's excursion to Marin Town and Country Club.

The club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will leave by buses from Westmoor High School at 9:30 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m.

Featured activities will include games, swimming and a barbecue. Cost to members is $2 and $3. for their guests. Price includes bus transportation. trip insurance, admission to Marin Town and Country Club and a hot dog roast.

THE TELSTARS and Roof Raisers Junior Teen Clubs journeyed to Angel Island last Sunday for a fun-filled day, which started with the teens arriving on the island aboard the Harbor King. Once they arrived, the youngsters and the leaders went out on a one-hour hike. Following the hike was a hot dog roast and various activities and games.

One of the most popular activities was a scavenger hunt. The team, led by Andy Barringer included Pam Castro, Beth Winkle, Marie Maroney, Stephanie Adams, Theresa Maloney, Terry Benezra, Nan Millar, Mary Butorec, Joyce Olivier, Lisa Polister and Jan Smigelsky.

A "find" not on the list was brought back by Mike Masters—a dead fish!

Other activities included a treasure hunt.

The three winners were Stephanie Adams, Cindy Barringer and Janice Norton. The egg throw was won by Steve Browne and Mike Swango. The pie-eating contest was won by the team led by Carl Miller. This event was especially funny when Recreation Leader Dave Barry "got a pie in the face." The afternoon concluded with races and a softball game which ended in a 9-9 tie.

The next activity for the Testars Junior Teen Club will be a band dance at Westmoor Park May 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. The admission will be 25 cents for members and 75 cents for their guests.

The Roof Raisers next activity will be ice skating on May 12. Cars will leave F. D. Roosevelt School at 6:30 p.m. and return at 9:30 p.m. The fee will be $1 for memebrs and $1.50 for guests.

THE Casualiers Junior Teen Club held a dance on May 5 at Colma School. The "Top Ten" and favored Beach Boy records were featured.

BONNIE BEURCH, an eighth grade student at Ben Franklin Intermediate School and a Know Names Junior Teen Club Council member has been chosen as the most valuable club member.

Bonnie has actively participated in all the Know Names' functions and continuously helped the club in preparing for its activities.

She has donated her time and effort to make the Know Names a successful club and this special interest was one of the reasons for her being chosen the most outstanding, valuable club member.

All the council members spend a great deal of time to promote the club's interests.

They are assigned certain tasks at each function such as helping to sell refreshments and always do a very favorable job. Every council member's participation is vital to the continuation of the Know Names being one of the most active and largest Junior Teen Clubs of the Daly City Department of Recreation.

Asks Motorists To Slow Down

For a period of about two weeks beginning today, traffic controls will be in effect on Skyline Boulevard immediately north of Trousdale Drive in Millbrae between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. each weekday, for the safety of motorists.

Trucks hauling fill material will be crossing the highway intermittently to reach the site of construction for a future detour between Toursdale Drive and Millbrae Avenue.

The state's contractor, Piombo Construction Company & Piombo Corporation, will install advance warning signs to alert motorists and flagmen will be stationed at the hauling area for traffic control.

Motorists are urged to reduce speed when traveling through the working area and to be alert for the signs and flagmen.

No hauling will be done on weekends, or at other times than the period outlined above.

Indians Invade Cap?

If you look out your window and see an Indian walking down the street, don't be alarmed It's probably a member of the Order of the Arrow, an honor campers' society of the Boy Scouts of America.

About 400 of the Scouts will be invading the Capuchino High School campus on May 12-14 for the annual Bay Area 12B Conference. The event will be highlighted by Indian dancing, displays of Indian jewelry and other activities based on early American Indian themes.

The Scouts, known as Arrowmen, will set up tepees on the capus for shelter. They will participate in discussion groups, field sport competition, swimming, woodcarving and costume making events.

From 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 13, there will be a public display of Indian dancing. The show will be held in the football stadium and will feature the award-winning Pomponio Lodge Dance Team from San Mateo County Council.

Members of the Order of the Arrow are elected from the many Boy Scout troops in the area. They must be exempliary of the best type of Scout and have shown their skill as a Scout camper.

Pomponio Lodge is under the leadership of Lodge Chief Dennis Dunne, of Redwood City. Advisor to the group is Dave Brown of San Bruno.

The Order of the Arrow is one of several service organizations which are part of or affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America. The San Mateo County Council of the Boy Scouts of America is a member agency of the United Bay Area Crusade.

New Permit For Church Requested

The South San Francisco planning office has received plans and a use permit applications for a new church on Alta Vista Drive near the Conmur Street intersection.

Planner Daniel Pass said the Church of Christ has applied for a permit to construct a two-story, 3,600 square foot church and fellowship hall at the site.

Pass will recommend approval of the permit request at the May 22 meeting of the city's planning commission, "subject to the usual conditions."

Another church group, the Aldersgate Methodist Congregation, has applied for a use permit to convert an existing church building to an adult education center.

A 30-Hour Week? Not Westmoor

A survey of Westmoor High School teachers taken last month explodes the myth of the 30-hour work week for high school teachers.

A report compiled by the social science department at the Daly City school reveals the average teacher in the department puts in more than 16 hours work during weekday "off time" each week.

In addition, the average Westmoor High teacher works another four to eight hours on the weekend.

The survey on 19 teachers was based on the average amount of time each teacher spends daily on such classroom related tasks as correcting papers, preparing lessons, meetings, student conferences, clerical work, typing, and "ditto" work.

Recall Beaten In Brisbane

An attempt to recall Brisbane Councilman Jess C. Salmon failed last week by an overwhelming majority.

Salmon retained his seat on the city council by a margin of almost two to one and will stay in office until April, 1968 — the normal expiration date of his term.

Observers said today they feel Salmon's victory will herald a "new approach" to the present garbage battle being waged between San Francisco and Brisbane.

Rose Show This Saturday

By IVA NEWMAN

San Mateo County Rose Society's big Prize-Winning Spring Rose Show scheduled for this weekend will be held Saturday, May 13 and Sunday, May 14 in the new Crocker-Citizens National Bank, 181 Second Avenue, corner of Ellsworth.

For the first time in the twenty-one year history of the San Mateo County Rose Society their big Spring Rose Show has had to be postponed for lack of blooms. Uusually the buds start opening the latter part of April and gardens are loaded wth blooms by the first of May. This year, the more than a hundred members of the Rose Society some with three to four hundred rose plants in their gardens, reported no blooms at all the end of April. Rain and cold weather had kept the blooms in tight bud.

Other Rose groups also suffered from the wet, cold that plagued the month of April. The Peninsula Rose Society (they hold their show in Redwood City) had to cancel out completely. The East Bay Rose Society (their show is held the last Sunday in April at the Hall of Flowers in Lakeside Park) also cancelled out completely. The Stockton Rose Society had to postpone their show for two weeks, and San Francisco Rose Society show is scheduled for Mother's Day in San Francisco's Hall of Flowers.

The San Mateo County Rose Society has won the big Jackson & Perkins State Trophy for the most beautiful Rose Show in the State three times in the five times it hs been offered. This trophy will be on display in the new Crocker Citizens National Bank during the show. The Trophy is awarded on a series of points given the show by a secret panel of judges who work quietly without making their presence known.

This year's show will closely follow the pattern of the shows of previous years. There will be door prizes of ten dollar merchandise orders, good on any downtown San Mateo store. You do not need to be present to win but you will be asked, if you win, to attend the awards presentation meeting to receive the award. The awards are limited to adults visiting the show. A member of the Crocker-Citizens National Bank will draw the winning tickets and Greater Downtown San Mateo Inc., cosponsor of the show, will mail out the notices to the winners.

New this year is a special class, calling for one bloom each of white, pink, yellow, red and blend blooms. This class honors Toyonaka, San Mateo's Sister City and bears that cities name.

New Products For the Home Are Revealed

Here are some new products — with the performance claims of the manufacturers:

FOLDING CLOSET DOORS that can be installed by the average person in less than 15 minutes. The bi-fold panels are warp-free and highly resistant to scuffing, staining and denting. Each panel is enclosed by a U-channel frame with a baked-on alkyd finish. The doors are hung with only a top track and bottom jamp pivots.

A 6-INCH-WIDE VINYL SIDING that does not require paint and will not chip, dent, rust, wear away, support fire or conduct electricity. The new siding can be nailed directly to standard sheathing, eliminating the necessity of a special backerboard. Previous vinyl siding as made in widths of 8 inches.

SELF-CLEANING WALL OVEN which removes cooking grease and spillovers by means of controlled high temperatures that transform the grease and oven spatters into harmless vapor.

A DISHWASHER that requires no electric power to operate. It is run on water pressure only, has only two moving parts and handles regular dishwater detergents.

A FIREPLACE with an ultra-modern design that can be used as a free-standing unit or built into a home or used as a room divider.

LAMINATE TRIMMERS that will trim around 90-degree corners and handle backsplash trim jobs that in-line trimmers can't do. The trimmers are powered by 3.8-amp, 27,500-rpm motors.

Sugar 'n Spice

Lousy Card Game, But Cookies Great

Nell Norton

Do you feel like baking cookies today? Hope so "for I've quite a collection of gems to share with you—and these first cookies are really like gems, a round of delicious goodness topped with pineapple and sprinkled with nuts.

Mrs. Blanche Long, who lives at 1587-Forty-seventh Avenue in San Francisco made these cookies for a bridge party. I played my usual unfortunate bridge game, but the refreshments were so delicious they raised my spirits, and helped me forget the slam I bid and didn't make.

PINEAPPLE CRUNCHIES

1 can crushed pineapple, No. 2 size
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teas. soda
three-fourths cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 teas. vanilla
1 tablespoon pineapple syrup
1¾ cup corn flakes
½ cup chopped nuts

The first thing to do when making these cookies is drain the pineapple. And give it a stir now and then to make it release more of it's syrup.

Sift together the one and one half cups of flour and one teaspoon soda. Cream the three-fourths cup butter and one cup of brown sugar, add the sifted flour and soda. Blend in the one teaspoon of vanilla and one Tablespoon pineapple syrup. Lastly mix in the one and three-fourths cup corn flakes.

Divide the dough into quarters. Make seven balls out of each quarter. Place on cookie sheet. Indent with thimble and fill theindentation with the pineapple, sprinkle with walnuts. Bake in 350-degree oven about 20 minutes.

THIS NEXT trio of recipes come from Mrs. Barbara Johnson who lives at 1939-47th Ave. in San Francisco. Barbara's family are all fond of home-made cookies so she is always looking for new and interesting recipes. This first recipe for Brownies combines cream cheese with chocolate to make a delicious treat.

Melt the four ounces of chocolate and three tablespoons of butter over very low heat, stirring constantly. Cool. Cream remaining two tablespoons butter with the three ounces cream cheese until softened. Gradually add one-fourth cup sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Stir in one egg, one tablespoon flour and one-half teaspoon vanilla until blended.

Beat the remaining two eggs until fluffy and light in color. Gradually add remaining three-fourths cup sugar, beating until thickened. Fold in the one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt and remaining one-half cup flour. Blend in cooled chocolate mixture. Stir in the one-half cup chopped nuts, one-fourth teaspoon almond extract and remaining one teaspoon vanilla.

Measure one cup chocolate batter and set aside. Spread remaining chocolate batter in a greased 9-inch square pan. Pour cheese mixture over the top. Drop measured chocolate batter from tablespoon onto the cheese mixture; swirl the mixtures together with a spatula just to marble. Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Cut in bars or squares. Cover and store in refrigerator. Makes about 20 brownies.

BARBARA'S Dream Bars are really dreamy. She makes them every Christmas and, fortunately for her family and friends, many times during the year too. They are rich and chewy and really quite simple to make.

Combine the one-half cup butter, one-half cup brown sugar and one cup flour. Mix until crumbly. Press into the bottom of a 9x13-inch baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (375-degrees) for ten minutes. Cool while you prepare the filling.

Beat the two eggs, the cup of brown sugar and the teaspoon of vanilla together. Combine the two tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder and sift over the one and one-half cups coconut and one cup chopped nuts. Then fold into the creamed mixture.

Spread evenly over the baked bottom and bake in 375-degree oven for 20 minutes. Cool and cut into bars.

Pacifica Teen-ager Injured in Crash

A Pacifica teen-ager received minor injuries and one of the drivers involved in a two-car collision was arrested.

Pacifica police said autos drivens by Niles Klaastad, 37, of San Francisco, and Vladimir Derugin, 17, of Pacifica, collided shortly after midnight at the intersection of Gateway and Hickey.

Injured, but not seriously, was Dogdan Tkacz, 16, Pacifica, a passenger in the Derugin vehicle.

Booked on a charge of being drunk in-or-about a motor vehicle was driver Klaastad.

Klaastad, police said, was eastbound on Hickey. Derugin was turning left onto Gateway at the time of the broadside crash.

Tkacz was treated at Mary's Help Hospital for contusions of the head, then released.

Pancake Offer To Pacifica Blood Donors

Pacificans are once again being asked to donate blood for use by their fellow citizens.

The mobile blood unit from Peninsula Blood Bank will be stationed at the Sharp Park School on Saturday, May 13, from 8 a.m. until noon.

As before, it will be staffed by members of the Mizpah Fellowship and volunteers from Peninsula—and a free pancake breakfast will be served to all donors.

Mizpah held its first drive for the Pacifica Reserve Fund in 1954 and has been doing it twice a year since that time.

Many hundreds of pints of life-giving blood have been collected—and many hundreds have been disbursed.

Blood may be released to any resident or employe of Pacifica and his family — even relatives in distant states have been aided.

Although there is not a specified time limit in which the blood need be replaced, it is evident that the supply would quickly be depleted if blood is not continually made availablem

A small group of "regulars" show up for every blood drive, but these few cannot hope to maintain an adequate supply for a growing community.

Thus, this year a broad appeal is being made to every resident to try to establish an "account" with this reserve fund.

Bruno Theft Of Golf Clubs

Alpha Snyder, 50, 2409 Trenton Drive, San Bruno, reported that someone stole her golf equipment valued at about $320 last Tuesday after she had left outside the Muni Club House in San Mateo for an hour.

She told police that she went inside the club house at about 9 a.m. and left her clubs, golf balls and other equipment outside.

When she came outside at about 10 a.m., she said, her gear was gone.

Vietnamese Plan Visit To El Camino Hi

During the week of May 22 through May 26 El Camino High School in South San Francisco will be host to nineteen South Vietnamese educators, who are completing a tour of six comprehensive high schools in the United States.

El Camino will be the only California high school to be visited by this group of officials, which includes ten principals, five ministers of education and four interpreters.

Representation includes school officials from areas such as Saigon, Bien, Hoa, and Hue.

As directors of secondary schools destined to become demonstration centers in South Vietnam, the educators will attend seminars on curriculum, scheduling, counseling, and those subjects which typify the wide range of courses offered at the high school level.

The visitors will talk informally with students during their daily observation of classes. In addition, they will have lunch with campus leaders, such as student body officers and editors of the school newspaper, during their five-day stop.

To provide an opportunity for members of the local news media to meet the South Vietnamese officials, a press conference has been scheduled for Thursday, May 25 from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. in El Camino's main conference room. Since only six of the educators speak English, their interpreters will also be on hand to provide simultaneous translation.

A schedule of the classroom visitations is included for those who wish to interview the educators or take pictures outside of the Thursday press session.

Tuesday, May 23, 12:30-2:30 p.m.

Wednesday, May 24, 9:00-11:00 a.m.

Thursday, May 25, 1:45-2:30 p.m.

S.S.F. High Schools Top Accreditation

Word has been received that both South San Francisco high schools, El Camino and South San Francisco, have been approved for the maximum accreditation of a full five years by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

Teams consisting of five team members in various positions of teaching, supervision, and administration have recently completed three-day stays in the district.

Their time was spent in talking with students and teachers, visiting classes, studying curricullm materials, and having meetings with personnel groups in discussing the activities programs of the schools.

The accrediting team studies the overall details as time will allow in their comparatively short visit and makes their report on the basis of two evaluation areas:

1) Commendations are given to the schools for the outstanding and unusual programs and activities that are being carried on, and

2) Recommendatins are also made where the visiting committee feels the program may be improved.

Housewives Help Police

Neighborhood housewives joined forces in South San Francisco Thursday afternoon to capture an ex-convict minutes after he allegedly burglarized a home there.

Police said Jack Carl Stanphill, 41, of 1010 Bush Street San Francisco, broke into the home of Richard L. Brewer at 424 Northwood Drive shortly before 2 p.m.

As Stanphill left the home carrying a suitcase, loaded with miscellaneous household items, and a portable television set, four neighborhood housewives spotted him.

While one woman trailed Stanphill in the family car, another phoned police.

Police Sgt. Bernard Esparza arrived on the scene within minutes and arrested Stanphill walking down Northwood Avenue with the stolen property.

The suspect offered no resistance, police said.

$160 Holdup In Daly City

A pair of gunmen held up the Vinmar Motel, 3255 Geneva Avenue, last week and fled with $160.

Police said the pair walked into the motel shortly before 11:30 p.m. brandishing revolvers.

They threatened the unidentified night manager and scooped up the money from the register before fleeing in a late model sedan.

1,000,000 Gallons A Mistake

Daly City officials were today mulling a one million gallon "mistake" allegedly made some 30 years ago.

According to developer Tom Callan, one of the city's huge water reservoirs was erroneously built on a half-lot parcel of land owned by him in 1939.

Callan said the property was picked up when taxes became delinquent in 1938 and he has been paying some $80 annually on, and which Daly City is using.

In 1945 Callan acquired another half-lot adjoining the first parcel, but apparently the "mistake" went unnoticed until recently.

Callan attributes the slipup to the city's surveyor "who must have thought he was standing on city property" when the tank was first proposed.

If the city did, indeed, locate its reservoir on Callan's property, then they will undoubtedly have to either reimburse him for the back taxes, buy the land outright or arrange a "swap" with another parcel elsewhere, City Atty. Albert Polonsky said.

"But we must investigate the matter thoroughly before the city makes any commitments either way," Polonsky said.

All Tom Callan wants is "a fair deal."

Blaze Interrupts Meeting

Fireman, save my steak!

Delegates to the North County Council of Cities meeting last Thursday vigorously applauded efforts of the Daly City Fire Department when some 40 prime cuts of sirloin were rescued from a blaze in the kitchen of Toto's Restaurant.

The North Peninsula councilmen were just beginning their monthly hassle over ABAG, taxes and the state of the union when someone yelled "Fire!"

Only seconds later, nearly a score of firemen in full regalia bounded through the soup and salad-laden tables with fire extinguishers blasting.

The fire, as it turned out, was confined to a flue over the restaurant stove, and the only damage done was to the gathering's decorum.

After the blaze was extinguished, another 45 minutes was required to clear the restaurant of smoke. Daly City Councilman Frank Pacelli, after noting it was "going to be a hot meeting," bought a round of drinks for the visitors.

The oly official action taken at the disrupted meeting was a resolution endorsing the State Division of Highway's position on the 280 Freeway Route, and opposing the "ridge roue" proposed by the City of San Francisco.

Pacelli reported on Daly City's ABAG woes, and repeated his charge that the city is being "blackmailed" through the threatened withholding of Housing and Urban Development funds because of its opposition to the regional government proposal.

The delegates discussed the county's methods of tax collection, Chairman Dave Martin of Burlingame charged county officials delay payment of tax revenues to the cities "in order to collect interest on the money."

Martin suggested the money should be turned over to the cities immediately, "so we can draw the interest ourselves."

New officers will be elected at the July NCCC meeting, to be held at San Bruno.

Police Hold Youth, Charge Use of 'Pot'

An 18-year-old Pacifican was arrested by police last week, charged with alleged possession of marijuana.

Michael Eugene Eshleman, 676 Corona, was taken into custody on the Terra Nova High School parking lot after patrolmen assertedly found marijuana on the front seat of the car Eshleman was in.

Police said an Oceana High School teacher had flagged down Patrolmen Charles Roberts and James Howell shortly after 8 a.m. and told them of a man in a car who supposedly was calling grade school children to a car.

When Roberts and Howell arrived at Terra Nova, they saw a car matching the description given them by the teacher last in the parking lot line.

Eschleman was in the front seat, Roberts said. The patrolman reported he saw a cigarette that had been rolled in yellow zig-zag cigarette paper on the seat next to the suspect. Roberts said he also found a vegetable matter, believd to be marijuana, in a waxed-paper bag.

Accordng to police reports, the suspect said he purchased the material for $20 from a hitch-hiking "hippie" in the Linda Mar area of Pacifica.

REGULAR DENTAL CARE

Reduction of the consumption of sugar, proper toothbrushing can do much to reduce the pervalence of dental decay in children. All dental decay, however, cannot be prevented. There is no substitute for regular visits to the dentist.

Your children should pay their first visit to the dentist between two and one-half and three-years of age, shortly after all their primary teeth have erupted.

There are a number of advantages in early and frequent visits to the dentist:

1 tooth defects and dental disease can be detected and corrected in their early stages
2 the dentist can observe and correct irregularities in the growth of the teeth
3 pain can be prevented
4 the cost of care can be reduced

Eleventh 'Miss Pacifica' Contest Saturday Night

The eleventh annual Miss Pacifica Pageant will be held at Terra Nova High School, Pacifica, on Saturday, starting at 8 p.m.

Eleven of Pacifica's most pretty, talented young ladies will compete as semi-finalists folowing "Miss America" tradition for the crown of "Miss Pacifica."

Competition will be based on 25 per cent swimsuit, 50 per cent talent and 25 per cent evening gown.

The pageant, under direction of Stan vanderHule, has been praised in recent years as "equal to many state pageants."

"Last year the three hour event left 2,000 persons with an evening to remember," vander Hule said. Press quotations claimed their settings would do credit to the Miss America pageant.

Bill Gordon, television personality, will be the master of ceremonies, with musical direction by Jack Fisher and the "Official Miss California Orchestra."

Jean Fassler, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, is the pageant hostess.

Dignitaries from throughout the county are expected, including members of the board of supervisors, mayors and chamber of commerce presidents.

Bud Prindle, president of the Miss California Pageant Board of Directors, will be represented by officials of the state pageant, who will be on hand to view the Pacifica production in reply to their request for a direct franchise.

Pacifica hopes to become a part of the Miss California-Miss America family. In the past there has only been one franchise covering all of San Mateo County.

"A county as large as San Mateo is denying many young ladies, potential challengers to the Miss California Crown, the right to participate because only one franchise is now available for a county of over 550,000 in population, when neighborning counties are permitted to really support this wonderful program," vanderHule said.

There is a committee of over 60 volunteers.

There are over $2,200 in scholarships waiting the winner together with hundreds of dollars of awards. The 1967 panel of judges consists of six members.

Jeff High Glee Club Helps Sale

The Glee Club of Jefferson High School, Daly City, will help swell ticket sales to the "Say It With Music" stage show and after-show buffet slated for Saturday, June 17, at the Daly City War Memorial Center, 6655 Mission Street, Daly City.

The announcement was made yesterday by Gil Crane, leader of the 30-member Glee Club, who said his singing group will help the benefit affair that is being jointly sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions Club and the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, 405 Lakeshire Drive, Daly City.

Said Crane, "The Daly City-Colma Lions financially aided our Glee Club when we made our recent trip to Las Vegas to participate in the national glee club competition. Now that we find the Lions Club with a depleted Youth Welfare Fund, we feel we can return a favor by helping the Lions replenish their Fund."

Presently, three other organizations in addition to the Glee Club are out selling tickets in behalf of the Youth Welfare Fund. These are Troop 8, Girl Scouts of Daly City and Colma; members of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club; and the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild.

Although the "Troubadors of St. Francis Heights" — students of the Guild — are expected to dispose of some 50-percent of the total admission tickets, none of the proceeds are earmarked for the dance studio.

All proceeds go to the Daly City-Colma Lions Club who will divide it between the Girl Scouts and the Lions Youth Welfare Fund. The Youth Welfare Fund supports such worthy charitable projects as Guide Dogs for the Blind; the Lions Eye Bank; local Boy Scout activities; Operation Santa Claus and various other community welfare projects.

Troop 8 of the Girl Scouts will use their portion to help finance a trip to Washington, D.C., a long-term campaign which Troop-8 launched three years ago in 1964. If everything goes well, 28 members of Troop 8 and 7 chaperons will be on hand for the Nation's Capitol in August, this year.

A cast of 105 singers and dancers perform in the "Say It With Music" stage show — a 60-minute performance with curtain time set for 8:00 p.m. The after-show buffet will be under the supervision of The Lioness Club of Daly City-Colma.

Tickets at $1.50 per person are available from any member of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club; from Mrs. R. L. Eversole, Girl Scout leader, 756-1740; Glee Club members; and from the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, 405 Lakeshire Drive, phone 992-1934.

First Power Saw Opens Whole New Field of Home Projects

Your first power saw, whatever kind it is, opens a whole field of useful and interesting work around the house. You can build bookshelves, make that long-wanted server-buffet for the dining room, turn out toys and gifts for the children and relatives, finish an extra room in the attic, and take care of numerous chores that formerly required long and tedious effort.

There are various types of power saws. Some are easier to handle than others, and some do more precise work. The simplest type is the saber saw, which is similar to the jig saw except that it is portable. This saw requires only nominal experience and is quite safe to use when proper precautions are taken to see that it is connected to a grounded circuit. (Any electrical tool or equipment is hazardous when used without adequate grounding.) The saber saw makes curves, irregular shapes, and more-or-less straight cuts by following a marke guide line. Some models have adjustable guide fences to assist in straight ripping and cross-cutting, though these cuts will not be sufficiently accurate for neat jointing. Its safety lies in the fact that there's no tendency for throwback of the stock, and the blade works only in short up-and-down strokes at the front of the tool, away from the hand that holds the tool at the top.

A stationary jig saw is used for the same purpose of cutting curved and irregular shapes. This is probably the safest of all power saws, and in fact can be operated by a youngster after only brief instruction.

The real workhorse of the home workshop is the bench saw. This saw can handle almost every kind of wood stock, including thicknesses well over 2 inches, and turn out work that is straight and true, of precise dimension. Thus the bench saw may be used for ripping, cross-cutting, mitering, beveling, grooving, and other jointing operations. The bench saw may have a blade of 8" to 10" diameter, and a tilting mandrel for beveling or mitering the end of a plywood panel to make cabinet joints.

Considerable skill is necessary before attempting such cuts. Actually, the operator should become acquainted with the proper method for feeding all types of stock, from narrow wood strips to full plywood panels. The work must be adequately supported so that the ends won't drop down after going past the edge of the saw table. A splitter and blade guard is supplied with most saws (or should be purchased separately if not included) as an important safety measure, and used at all times by anyone who is not fully experienced.

For the new owner, the way to acquire skill is to start with simple cuts while paying close attention to the basic safety rules. Begin by ripping a clean 6"-wide board, at least two feet long and not warped. Make sure that the area around the saw is clean and free of any obstructions that could cause you to trip. The saw blade should be sharp, and the teeth free of pitch or other sticky substance. Set the blade guard and splitter in place, and make sure that it is in line with the blade so the wood stock can move through feely. Then follow this procedure: Move the fence so it is about 1" away from the blade, and lock the fence in position. Place the board on the table and move it close to the blade. Start the motor, then feed the stock slowly and smoothly into the blade. Hold the board down flat with the palm of your left hand, well off to the side away from the blade, and back near the end of the board. The fingers of this hand are curved so they grip the side edge of the board. The right hand pushes the board forward during the cutting. Stand a bit to the side never directly in back of the blade.

As the board nears the end of the cut, slide the left hand a bit forward to keep the board from bouncing and to guide it closely against the fence. When the cut is completed, throw the switch to stop the motor. Wait until the blade is still before removing the cutoff piece.

In that way they are protected against being pulled into the blade if the work slides forward because of a fault in the grain, or the wood is thrown back by a sticky blade. The left hand is used to push the stock forward into the blade. As the work approaches the end of the cut, the right hand fingers are able to move the wood forward until the cut is completed and the work slides free. Stop the motor, and remove the waste stock.

A number of practice cuts such as described above will give you "the feel" of the blade, the rate and amount of force required to send the work through. More important, the practice will make you aware of the various ways in which the fingers can be guarded while being used to hold down and move the stock. Fingering for wood cutting is not quite as precise as for piano playing, but just as important for your safety. When you've acquired a proper approach for handling the stick you will be well on the way to obtaining topnotch workmanship from the saw.

Put New Appliances Into Kitchen

Old appliances do not a modern kitchen make. Yet some homeowners overlook this truism when formulating plans for an up-to-date kitchen.

The principal reason why kitchen planning should include modern appliances is that the goal of a new kitchen is to give the homemaker added convenience and to save her time and labor. Older model, "left-over" appliances just can't do that.

What's more, out-dated appliances detract from the appearance of a remodeled room. New models are designed specifically for the sleek, built-in look of contemporary kitchens. Building Supply News, a trade publication, points out, for example, that there are two types of built-in electric ranges: one which has surface elements dropped into a countertop, with ovens set in the wall or cabinet; and one which is a compact unit of surface elements and oven that slides into a low platform base. Either fits right in with built-in cabinets and countertops.

Other range styles are equally suitable. Free-standing ranges fit flush with the tops and fronts of standard cupboards. High-style eye-level ranges have single or double ovens hung from the wall above the surface units. All styles are available with the latest convenience features including automatic timers and temperature controls.

New model refrigerator-freezers are designed with square corners and straight lines to fit flush against the wall and cabinets. Many models have eliminated coils from the back. And new thin-wall insulation gives larger interior capacity without expanding the exterior dimensions. This means you can fit a large 16-cubic-foot refrigerator-freezer into the space now taken up by your older 12-foot appliance. The streamlined design saves you the cost of cabinetry work that used to be necessary to make the refrigerator look built-in. For modern convenience, refrigerator-freezers in which frost doesn't form in either the refrigerator or freezer compartments, end the messy job of manual defrosting.

With the modern kitchen emphasis on saving time, steps and work, automatic dishwashers have an indisputable place in remodeled kitchens. They save about an hour of cleanup time daily. In addition to built-in models which fit into the space of a regulation undercounter cabinet, and free-standing models, which generally go at the end of a line of counters, there are two other styles adaptable to kitchen remodeling. One is the portable which stores anywhere and rolls to the sink for use. The other is the convertible-portable, which is used as a portable temporarily, but can be permanently installed later. The latter two are ideal for homeowners who are remodeling in stages, but don't want to wait to have the convenience of a dishwasher.

Another attribute to modern appliances is their variety of styling. Now you can get pastel colors, deep hues, stainless steel coppertones, chromes and wood-grained surfaces as well as white.

Defective Wall Switches Not Insoluable Problem for Homeowners

Sooner or later, you're going to have to replace a defective wall switch, unless you want to wait until you can get an electrician for such a small job. Once you know how, you can make the replacement in a matter of minutes. In most localities this type of electrical repair is permitted, but better check with local authorities just to make sure.

Switches come in numerous types, the most common being the sandard toggle switch. Others are the silent mercury, the rocker, revolving knob, luminous, weatherproof, locking, elbow tap, dimmer, and the original two-button kind that's as out of date as high button shoes.

Nearly all are interchangeable in the same electrical wall box, so when replacing a switch, that's the time to switch to a more modern style. You may select the luminous type that glows in the dark, or one that goes on or off just with a light tap, or the dimmer switches which permit a full range of the room illumination, from brightness to a soft glow.

Why do switches go bad? Some work almost indefinitely, others become defective very quickly. There are two reasons: quality of the switch mechanism, and electrical load abuse. Good quality switches have fast-moving contact arms and good contact pressure to minimize arcing (sparking). In cheap switches, the contact surfaces may be uneven so they barely touch, and the parts move sluggishly, allowing the current to jump acoss the terminal points. When this happens, the copper contacts become burnt and pitted, eventually fail to function at all. Switches are rated for maximum load, usually 10 amperes. A high-current appliance, such as a toaster or iron, will quickly burn out a switch.

Switches manufactured to association specifications and rated with a "T" symbol will far outlast those which are made for the competitive price market. Before buying the replacement check to see if the old one is a single pole (2-wire) or the 3-way or 4-way type (with three or four wires connected to the switch terminals). But do not include any wires that are connected to the receptacle side, if any, of the switch. Purchase only switched that have the Underwriter's UL label, and bear the manufacturer's name.

Making the Installation

The only tools you'll need for the replacement are a screwdriver and pair of pliers, the later preferably of the needle-nose type. Also, some adhesive tape. Before starting, disconnect the current on the switch circuit by pulling the fuse. If you're uncertain as to the fuse for that circuit, and if you can't tell whether the current is on or off, turn off the main switch.

Remove the screw or screws holding the wall cover plate. Then take out the two flathead screws (one top and bottom) holding the switch in the metal wall box. Now pull the switch forward so it clears the box. switch away from the Box. Touch the test bulb wires to the terminal screws. If the bulb lights, try different fuses until you find the right one to disconnect the line.

Loosen the switch terminal screws all the way to remove the connecting wires. There may be two, three, or four wires, in black, red, or white color. The simplest way to make the replacement is to put the wires on the new switch in the same positions they were originally. A vertical switch is placed so the "on" side of the toggle is upward; a switch that moves side to side is placed so that the "on" position is away from the person's usual position when standing in front of it.

When connecting the wires, first loosen the terminal screws as far as they can go. Bend the exposed wire ends with the pliers into a tight curve so they slip around the screws without any excess wire sticking out. If the wire end is too long, clip off the needed amount for a neat fit, leaving enough for the screw to hold it firmly. Tighten the screws as far as you can — this is important both to assure that the wire won't come loose and for firm contact so there will not be any arcing that could burn the wire insulation. Finally, wrap one or two turns of friction tape around the switch to cover the terminal screws.

To return the switch to the box, carefully bend the wires so they can be compressed into the back. This may be quite difficult with heavy gauge wire, or if the box is crowded, but it can be done so that there is sufficient room to push the switch back into place. The two screws in the slotted holes on the swtich are turned into the small ears on the wall box; these screws are not tightened, but rather kept quite loose so the switch is neatly squared, fastened in can be lined up for the wall plate. At this point, the current may be turned on to test the lights. The cover plate finally place. And the job is done.

What To Look For In a Pool

What should you look for in a swimming pool? It's a good question, considering that more-than half a million homes now have pools.

This includes only the permanent, in-the-ground type, as contrasted with additional thousands of pre-fabricated and above-ground pools.

Add the neighborhood swim clubs, apartment, motel, country club, school and other permanent pools, and the total soars to more than 700,000 for a splash-happy populace.

Because there are 65 times as many permanent pools as there were in 1948 and because of the scientific explosion, Aquatech corporation was formed five years ago to keep its 17 member companies throughout the nation abreast of developments.

All are designers and builders of permanent pools. The president of the corporation, Edward P. Wagner, offers some advice to prospective pool owners.

"Whether for a private residential pool or a larger installation at a neighborhood swim club, a school, or public park, Wagner says, "design should complement the architecture of the home or other structures and should blend in with the surrounding terrain and landscaping.

"It's a good rule of thumb to make the shallow end larger than the deep end, because people spendmost of their time in the shallow end. If there are youngsters involved, they like to race, so the pool should have parallel ends for take-offs and turns. Even if you swim laps for exercise, parallel ends are helpful, and there is still room for great flexibility of design."

Wagner recommends reinforced concrete construction, either poured or sprayed, as being best able to take the strains imposed by water in the pool and by the surrounding earth.

Every pool today has its own recirculating-filtering system so the same water is used over an over. More and more pools also have water heating systems that add about 10 per cent to the cost of the pool but extend its seasonal use by 30 to 100 per cent.

Once the pool is built and filled, it must be maintained, with particular emphasis on chemical water treatment. There are two separate self-cleaning systems that use jets to direct water returning to the pool in such a way as to move sediment into the main outlet. The fully automatic filtration system cleans the filter by backwashing at regular, preset intervals.

A team of microbiologists has confirmed what previously was suspected—that water in different areas varies in chemical makeup. They developed a water treatment program that is geographically formulated to cope with the various degrees of alkalinity, acidity, and hardness to provide correct water balance. Once this balance is attained, sanitizing chemicals reach peak effectiveness and keep the water clear, sanitary, and non-irritating.

"By taking advantage of today's technology," Wagner says, "the modern pool owner can save a lot of work. He should test the water periodically with a simple test kit, and add the easily dispensed, geographically formulated chemicals that will bring the water into balance and provide the proper degree of sanitation."

Ceramics Hobby Is Spreading Fast

The manipulation of clay is one of the most primitive and ancient forms of creative expression known to man, but in recent years, the American hobbyist, always enthusiastic with new-found "toys," has been acting as if he discovered the art of ceramics on his own.

The hobby of ceramics is among the fastest growing hobbies in the country. In almost every city you will find evening classes on ceramics where housewives with a penchant for decorating are finding a release for their creative talents.

In the past ten years, over 15,000 neighborhood ceramic studios have been established in practically every part of the country. Hobbyists gather at these studios each week to create objects of art ranging in size from a small bud vase to a Grecian urn that stands as tall as a small boy.

The reason for the rapid growth of interest in ceramics is simple — simplification of the process. Modern glazes, colors, molds have made it possible for the average hobbyist to create professional-looking ceramics after only a few tries.

The speeding-up process in ceramics was developed by a group of entrepreneurs who felt that if the drudgery could be removed from the process, the American hobbyist would adopt it quickly.

They conceived the idea of providing the would-be artist with a piece of unfired clay that had already been molded into its finished shape but lacked color and finish. To accommodate the neophyte ceramicist, neighborhood studios were opened where he could use a kiln and choose from a vareity of tools, colors, glazes and other materials required for the process.

A typical ceramic studio is usually located in the basement or attic by a housewife who had decided to share her interest with neighbors and friends. She supplies a few large bags of ceramic clay, the urns to mix it in and a few basic molds. Before her fellow hobbyists arrive, she casts a few pieces by pouring liquid clay to harden, removes the molds and puts the molded pieces (called greenware) on the shelf to await her guests.

When they arrive, she usually instructs them in the art of ceramics, showing them how to polish the greenware, brush on the colors and glazes and how to create imaginative designs. The greenware is then fired, and the following week when the hobbyists return, it is once again awaiting them on the shelf, as shiny, finished creations.

Sometimes the housewives turn their hobby into a lucrative business by expanding to regularly scheduled classes and increasing the supply of ceramic supplies for the guests who have now turned into customers.

The National Ceramic Manufacturers Association was formed three years ago. The organization, which has a membership of 50 firms that manufacture kilns, molds, colors, tools and decorative materials, provides educational literature and visual material to the hobbyists.

SOCIAL GET-TOGETHER is one of the by-products of making decorative ceramic pieces for the home

Net farm income may drop one-third below the 1966 income level in 1968-70, bringing it down to the 1957 level, says a study by Federal farm experts.

Lubrication Protects Household Equipment, Hardware, Machines and Tools

The sealed-bearing motor, and the introduction of nylon bearings and gears, have tended to lull the homeowner into believing that oiling no longer is necessary. Actually, many items around the home still require occasional lubrication. In addition to the well-known requirements of door locks and door hinges, some things that benefit from a regular lubricating schedule are: overhead garage door hardware, attic fan bearings, saber saw gears, casement window rotary openers, lawn mowers, fishing reels, garden pruners and clippers, lawn sprinklers, cabinet latches, typewriters, bicycles, and nearly all workshop tools. Automobiles generally receive regular lube service, but even so, you should give the car an occasional going over to locate missed spots, particularly the emergency wheel jack.

A few simple materials and equipment items will take care of all your lubrication needs. You should have two small oil cans — one a trigger or thumb pump type that will squirt a bit of oil to the right spot, and one a can with a flexible spout that can be adjusted to reach into difficult places. These cans costing just over $1, should be small enough so you can handle them conveniently. The 4-ounce size is perfectly adequate for home use.

For most purposes, light sewing machine oil will be satisfactory. Heavier oil, the 20 or 30 viscosity used in automobile engines, will be better for garage door hardware and such equipment as snow blowers and hedge trimmers. You can drain enough leftover oil from a couple of cans at your filling station to supply the need for a long time.

Additional lubrication items include a tube of graphite powder, a stick of hard grease, a small jar of petroleum jelly, and a block of paraffin wax for drawer runners.

In rare situations, a specially prepared lubricating grease is required. This is so with certain geared tools like the saber saw. Read and follow the manufacturers' instructions supplied with the tool as to the number of hours the saw can be used between greasing, and how to apply the lubricant.

A squeaky door is a sign of dry hingepins. The best approach to correct this is to pull out the hinge pins, one at a time, rub a drop of oil over the hinge. If the pin is very dry it may not come out easily — in that case, use the tip of an old screwdriver against the ball part at the top, and tap it with a hammer to drive the pin up. After oiling each pin, an extra puff of graphite will keep it well lubricated for a longer time. Pins that appear badly rusted should be rubbed clean with a ball of steel wool.

Common door latches can be eased up simply by turning the knob so the latch is all the way inside, and then puffing some graphite or a squirt of oil into the space. Wipe the latch surface to remove any excess that might soil any clothing that comes in contact with the door edge.

Cylinder type door locks sometimes become sticky and are difficult to open, requiring undue force to turn the key. In most cases, this is corrected by placing some graphite on the key, then working the key back and forth in the cylinder to free the pins. If this doesn't solve the problem, squirt some benzine (lighter fluid is fine) into the key opening and work the key back and forth to spread the fluid. After the benzine dries, apply some graphite to keep the cylinder in good working order.

Sliding closet doors will move more smoothly when the track is lubricated with parafin or light grease, and the top roller pulleys are given a drop of oil.

Garage doors are heavy and put considerable strain on the hinges. The sectional-type overhead doors have three or four hinges on each section, and these should be oiled or greased regularly every month or so to prevent distortion and ultimate destruction of the expensive door. The tension cable pulleys also should be lubricated once a year.

Attic fans have two bearings to support the fan shaft. In some models, there are oil cups at the bearings which should be given a few drops of oil before the start of each warm-weather season. Air conditioner motors and compressors do not require any oiling, but the various air venting doors usually become sticky because of outdoor exposure and should be lubricated each season for easy operation. While you're at it, check the tension of the drive belts, and replace the air filters.

Casement window openers should be removed, cleaned and lubricated at least twice a year. The rotary mechanism is taken out by removing the two retaining screws at the side of the rotary block, and easing out the long metal bar that fits into the bottom of a window track. Wipe the track clean with a benzine-dampened cloth, and also wipe off the old grease from the gears in the block, where grit usually accumulates. Then apply fresh grease to the gears and also along the window track, reset the opener arm on the track, and replace the rotary gear block with the screws.

Now that you've started, check around all appliances and equipment, such as the lawn mower and gardening tools, to see where further lubrication is required. Oil the shears, scissors and clippers. Apply parafin to drawer runners, coat your saw table with a film of oil to prevent rusting and putting, and grease the garden gate hinges. It all adds up to a smoothly-running household.

In South SF, A Robbery a Minute

South San Francisco was hit by two armed robberies within two minutes and one mile of each other early Friday.

A pair of neatly dressed gunmen entered the Holiday Inn, 245 South Airport Boulevard, at 2:47 a.m., vaulted the desk clerk's counter, and ordered two employes working there to lie face down on the floor.

As the pair began stuffing an undertermined amount of cash into their pockets, seven customers walked into the lobby.

They were quickly rounded up and ordered to lie face down on the floor near the employes.

The gunmen removed their wallets and fled the hotel through the front door on foot.

Police said it was the third time the Holiday Inn had been held up this year.

In the second incident under investigation by South San Francisco detectives today, a hooded robber held up the Amigo Restaurant, 231 Lux Avenue, using a knife.

An unidentified employe said the man, described as wearing a green hood, red sweater and dark shirt, quietly walked through the restaurant to the rear cash register and scooped up the money after threatening an employe.

The robber fled through the front door into a waiting car, driven by an unknown accomplice, police said.

$900 Fire In Daly City

A small fire caused some $900 in damages to an accessory building at 235 Village Way, Daly City yesterday.

The structure is owned by Charles Bradley, firemen report.

Cuase of the blaze is still under investigation.

Serramonte Shop Center Construction Launched

An enormous earth mover last week scraped up the 5 millionth cubic yard of earth at the Serramonte Regional Shopping Center site to mark the end of site preparation and the commencement of construction for the modern $20,000,000 shopping complex in Daly City.

The ceremony, witnessed by several hundred invited guests, took place on the 72-acre graded site, which had been decorated for the occasion with flags and banners, tenant identification signs, and an actual-size surface drawing of the 760,000 square feet of commercial space.

William F. Morton, vice president of Suburban Realty, developer of the project, told the audience that Serramonte Center was already more than 78 per cent leased, represented by 25 tenants. "This percentage is normally not reached until construction is well under way," he shaid. "We think this indicates just how attractive the location is, and the faith that 25 outstanding tenants have in the success of this center."

Carl Gellert, president of Suburban Realty, said that Serramonte Center would provide the focal shopping point for the $220 million Serramonte planned community which is expected to eventually have a population of 21,000 people. "The center will also be easily accessible to the people of southern San Francisco, Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco, San Bruno, and Millbrae," he said.

The grand opening has been set for August, 1968.

Across from the huge tent where the guests gathered, an impressive array of 140 pieces of earth moving equipment was assembled to indicate the scope of the Serramonte site development project, one of the largest in Northern California.

The equipment, valued at $3,500,000, and owned by Serramonte Center grading contractor, Arthur "Buzz" Haskins, ranged from pickup trucks to the largest piece of operating earth moving equipment in existence — a 125, 155-pound, 950 horsepower, 40 cubic yard capacity earth scraper.

Grading operations on the site of the former Christen Dairy Ranch required the full-time employment of more than 100 operating engineers, representing an annual payroll of close to $1,500,000, according to Haskins.

Serramonte Center, one of the largest in the area, will feature an air-conditioned, enclosed mall and parking for 5,200 automobiles. It was designed by the nationally known architectural firm of Welton Becket and Associates. Engineers for the project are E. V. Schulhauser and Associates, Inc. The Center will be erected by General Contractor, Ernest W. Hahn, Inc., of Hawthorne, Calif.

Smoke Victim Is Revived

A 54-year-old Daly City man who was revived by firemen after they had carried him from a smoke-filled apartment remains in Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco where he was taken for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Bill Murphy of 6161 Mission Street was found "unconscious and not breathing" when Daly City firemen arrived at the apartment building at 1:07 a.m. Saturday.

Battalion Chief Mel Hanson said a cigarette dropped in upholstery apparently started a minor fire in Murphy's lower one-bedroom apartment.

The upholstery smouldered, however, filling the entire building with "lots of smoke."

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kreps of an upstairs apartment were awakened by the smell of the smoke and raced outside through smoke-filled corridors.

They told firemen they had not seen Murphy.

Rookie Fireman Charles Recasens and Capt. Lyle Church went inside to locate Murphy.

"He was unconscious and not breathing when we got there," Chief Hanson said.

Captain Church and Recasens brought him out and firemen revived him, using a rescusitator, and Murphy was taken first to Mary's Help Hospital, then transferred to Kaiser.

"He was doing fine at last report," Hanson said.

Flame damage to the apartment was slight.

5 Seeking Licenses

Five applicants submitted requests to the Daly City council for business licenses this week.

Included in the list were:

James P. Summers, manager, 6918 Mission Street, Daly City Valkswagen, (new and used cars).

Joseph J. Castro, 6303 Mission Street, Tip Top Barber Shop No. 2, (barber shop).

Joseph B. Seitz, 220 School Street, Joseph Seitz Realty real estate office).

Joseph Pires and George Burke, 6572 Mission Street, Curry Distributing Co. (wholesale plumbing).

Jack W. Klassen, 80 Beachside Court, Jack W. Klassen — General Contractor (general contractor).

D.C. Firemen Probe Fire; One Injured

Daly City firemen and police investigators are probing the cause of a fire that caused an estimated $32,000 damage to three homes and injured one fireman early Saturday.

The blaze involved three buildings on Hanover Street after apparently starting in the garage of 930 Hanover, a home occupied by Mrs. Shirley Palma, who was not at home at the time.

With smoke visible for several miles, the fire spread from the Palma home to 924 Hanover, where Mr. and Mrs. Salvadore Castro lived. Although there was no flame damage, smoke filled the home of Mrs. Clara Coverdale of 936 Hanover.

Battalion Chief Mel Hanson said the fire at 930 Hanover burned everything on the east side of the basement, worked its way through the roof of the building.

It then went through the wall on the south side of the Castro home and into the attic as firemen put six hose lines to work.

The fire destroyed Mrs. Palma's car, caused an estimated $18,000 damage to her home, owned by Rafael Melendez of 163 Evergreen, Daly City, in addition to $2,000 in contents.

Damage to the adjoining Castro building was estimated at $10,000, plus $2,000 in contents.

Three-year-veteran fireman Michael Lyons received lacerations of the hands and fingers that required 25 stitches to close.

2 Snatched Off of Rocks On Coastside

Coast Guard officers report that Saturday's rescue of two young Berkeley residents from the rocks at Ano Nuevo Point, was carried on by an an H-52 "Flying Lifeboat" helicopter from South San Francisco.

Pilot was Lt. Bobbie Kingery, 912 El Camino Real, Burlingame. Co-pilot was Ensign John W. Knack, 436 Railroad Avenue, South San Francisco. Their crewman was Hospital Corpsman Robert L. Harwell, of the Coast Guard Air Station.

The Gust Family Has A Busy Daily Schedule

LORRAINE AND NICK GUST are the hard-working restaurant-nitery owners who keep the "fires burning" at Pacifica Nick's. No matter what day of the week you visit this popular restaurant, cocktail lounge, and banquet headquarters, you're sure to find one of the enterprising Gusts supervising the complete operation — from salad making to hosting. Both can step in and help in any capacity, if necessary. It would be to your advantage to take the scenic drive to Rockaway Beach (a stone's throw from the shores of the Pacific) for an extra-special breakfast, luncheon, or dinner. A night's relaxing in the adjoining Sea Breeze Motel, also a Gust enterprise, is another convenience to consider. Dick Snyder's entertaining combo plays for dancing Friday and Saturday, with Mary Ann Hay doing the vocals. Don Kelly presides over the organ Wednesday through Sunday. P.S.: Make reservations now for Mother's Day.

VIC BEFERA, one of the Peninsula's top publicity men, has been spending his few spare hours writing a book on the restaurant-nitery business. This should prove interesting, as the pitfalls in this thriving business are many. Put me down for one of the first editions, Victor . . . Although not a "Southern" boy in the true sense of the word, San Francisco born "Botch," master plankman at the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco, specializes in libations from "south of the Mason-Dixon line." Mint Juleps, of course, are among his favorites. But catch the way he mixes Mai-Tais, "southern" style . . . Although the big show at Goman's Gay '60's highlights topless dancers galore, a great many women are attending. One recent night, there were an even dozen mink coats checked . . . Stephen Gullo from the Pepsi Company in New York gave a dinner-party at Doros for 14 Bay Area friends.

SORRY TO HEAR that Nina Licata, charming wife of the Peninsula's restaurant Midas, Vince, has been confined to Mills Hospital. Checked with the hospital, Tuesday morn, and it seems, as of this publication, Nina may be on her way home . . . The Brochette "Luratti" Dinner is one of the top menu attractions in the Royal Hall at Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Served on a bed of rice, it's Tenderloin of Beef, with mushrooms, silver onions and cherry tomatoes . . . Old fashioned comfort and shaded lights are the keynote of Oreste's', a San Francisco restaurant well known for its superb Italian cuisine and reasonable prices. There is also a cocktail lounge and an extensive wine list. . . . The Resort Hotel Claremont in Berkeley will have a double-header for Mother's Day: Brunch will be served from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at $2.75, with the many-course dinner from 1 p.m. till 8 p.m. from $4.50. Kiddies under 12 at half price; those under six, free. Advance reservations are advised.

MARVELOUS MARIA, one of Sweden's attractive exports, is now heading the all-topless floor show at the Fireside in San Mateo. Maria is no stranger to the art of night club performing. This is her first topless appearance, but she has performed an act featuring a "fire dance" at the Condor, and several other clubs in San Francisco's North Beach. A little gal with an abundant supply of womanly qualities, Maria has an inexhaustible amount of energy. Jack McRae and Phil Maita, Fireside bossmen, have recruited an array of curvacious dancers guaranteed to be "eyepleasers." Also on the entertainment agenda, the "soulful" dance sounds of Danny Monday and his Blues Band, who recently appeared at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas . . . Fame of the Ercoli brother's Italian cuisine is world wide: Austrian Council-General Karl Weber was a recent diner at their Leaning Tower, South San Francisco.

Villa Chartier Plans Gala Dinner For Mother's Day

Villa Chartier Hostess, Edna Fuller, and Host-Manager Jack Bryce in a dining room huddle working out the seating arrangements for the forthcoming Mother's Day throngs. For many years, the Villa Chartier has been the dine-out headquarters for Peninsula families — and Sunday, May 14, should be no exception. Watch Bright Lights next Friday for the Villa Chartier's traditional Mother's Day menu.

The Blue Peacock Lounge, located in Kings Bowl, Millbrae, features "Happy Hours" every day from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Drinks are only 50 cents. It's a relaxing atmosphere in which to unwind after a day at the office.

Nod of the week to Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City for the most original costumes for their dining room waitresses. Every lovely lass wears a Scottish kilt. Only addition to this scene would be to have co-owner Mary Lou, cruising around the dining room playing bag pipes.

The Capri Pizza restaurant, located in the Buri Buri Shopping Center, South San Francisco, is a new addition to Bright Lights' list of fine dining spots. Owned by Walt and Adeline Olsen, this conveniently located restaurant specializes in pizza, but also offers a wide selection of Italian paste and meat entrees. A free delivery service is offered those living in the surrounding area.

New Food Record For Black Angus

Every record in the book was shattered last weekend at the Black Angus Chuck Wagon, according to manager-owner Carlo Fasolo and executive chef James Pearce, the "Deacon of the Pots and Pans.

"The parking lot looked like Candlestick Park when the Giants play a double header," was Mr. Fasolo's smiling comment Tuesday noon time.

The Black Angus crew has made many new friends since it's Chuck Wagon "All you can eat" opening, and they are always open to suggestions for improvement. Mother's Day dinner will be served from 12 noon Sunday, May 14.

Have known Enrico Romano for a fast 15 years and during that time he hasn't changed a pound.

"I still tip the Toledos at 180," said Enrico as he flexed a muscle.

It's a mystery to me how he does it. As you know, the pizza and Italian food served at his Romano's restaurant in Pacifica is far from "calorie free."

Horace Fong Manager Of The Tonga Room

Horace Fong, one of the greatest "chop stick" experts, who has been serving Cantonese and Chinese food since your Bright Lighter sampled his first noodle, is now Manager of the Fairmont Hotel Tonga Room. Former owner of Confucius restaurant in Oakland, Horace held the high position with the government as Food Consultant during World War II. His addition to the Fairmont Hotel staff is as welcome as a fortune Cookie to a Chinese dinner. . . .

Frank Accardo's Italian Restaurant

Italian food lovers are flocking to Frank's New York-Italian restaurant in Millbrae, where chef-owner Frank Accardo features such specialty dishes as Lobster "Fra Diavolo," and Scaloppini a la Dore. The 16 ounce New York steaks are also "prime" winners. Family style dining is welcome.

As an extra treat for Mother's Day diners, Doran's Manager Ron Sutherland will feature organist Larry Wickersham at the Hammond from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, May 14.

Luncheons as well as dinners are served at Nick Finocchio's San Francisco new Tivoli restaurant, a North Beach "foodmark" serving Italian cuisine family-style for over 50 years at the same location.

Pierre's Dewey Wong Invites You to Dine

DEWEY WONG, chef-owner of Pierre's in downtown San Mateo, encourages his many luncheon patrons to return with their families at dinner time. Dewey says the food is just as tasty, portions ample, and prices easy on the pcoketbook. Have a taste for Liver smothered with onions? You'll find it's a regular menu mention at Pierre's . . . The Care Package and 6-8 Paradox will be appearing this weekend from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Winchester Cathedral, the "dance only" night club in Redwood City. After-hours entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights will feature the hard-driving Rhythm and Blues group called Sly and the Family Stone. Dynamic Rich Romanello is still keeping to his Winchester Cathedral policy of booking only "top name" entertainers. The after-hours show (for those 18 and over) is an early-morning "happening" that shouldn't be missed by anyone interested in the "turned on" sounds of the "now" generation.

THE SAHARA-TAHOE HOTEL switches from song to comedy, Tuesday night, with the introduction of comedian Sid Caesar and his Special Guest Star, Shari Lewis, to South Lake Tahoe audiences. Robert Goulet ends a successful debut engagement in the 25-million dollar hotel's High Sierra Theater Monday, along with comedian sidekick Norm Crosby. The appearance by the Canadian crooner was his first at the resort. Caesar will be sharing headline billing with the petite Miss Lewis for a brief one-week engagement between his busy television schedule. Also on the bill are the world famous June Taylor Dancers, who opened a 10-week stint at the Sahara-Tahoe on April 18 with Goulet. Appearing in the Sahara-Tahhoe' popular Juniper Lounge are the frantic Treniers, Tokyo Happy Coats, Sandy Knox and the Showcases, The Characters and Phil Palumbo.

BE SURE TO CATCH the exciting musical talents of "Six The Hard Way" and The Delites at Don Zirilli's Embers in Redwood City before their next-week closing. Coming into the spotlight on Tuesday, The Younger Brothers, a fabulous singing duo . . . Al Kendlinger, maitre d' at the International Inn restaurant, South San Francisco, is one of the most likeable restaurant people on the Peninsula. In this country about a year, Al has worked for the "Inn" for eight months of that time. His past experience includes being Chief Steward on passenger liners, and working in such Continental culinary capitals as Munich, Hamburg and Bremerhaven . . . Malley's Club Room celebrated its Grand Opening, last weekend, and already the "sporting" men on the Peninsula are gravitating to this new South B Street club for leisure hours of game participation . . . . Nooney Rickett Unit is packing the Dragon A-Go-Go nightly. Everyone is dancing the latest dance crazes.

Don Zirilli

HOWARD BEDER, who has appeared in night clubs throughout the country with such artists as Sammy Davis, Jr., Phyllis Diller and Monique Van Vooren, is currently appearing at the San Francisco Playboy Club through May 13 . . . The exclusive Menlo Circus Club was the secene of an all-Greek evening, complete with dancing by Louie Gundunas of the Balkan Village and Greek cuisine. Louie did his celebrated Greek Tavern Dance, in which he danced with a table held only by his teeth. Shirley Eastman and her Balkanke women's folk dancers, also were featured . . . Chicken Cacciatore, with mushrooms, is just one of the "specialties" of the house at Fabbro's in Redwood City. Owner Frank Fabbro, who also acts as host and sometimes chef, features a menu that guarantees your complete palate satisfaction. Selections range from Italian dishes to steaks, and all entrees are prepared to your specifications.

Howard Beder

DICK FOY, veteran San Francisco orchestra leader and musician, has been appointed musical director and orchestra leader at Bimbo's 365 Theater-Restaurant in San Francisco. He takes over June 7 when present leader, Roy Palmer, departs. Foy's band first played in San Francisco in the Garden Court of the Palace Hotel. He played six years at the Sir Francis Drake, and later at the Mark Hopkins, where he played for the last New Year's Eve transcontinental radio broadcast from San Francisco. A pianist and song writer, Foy composed theme songs for old-time dance bands — Spud Murphy and Eddie Fitzpatrick. He also wrote tunes recorded by singer Tony Martin and the Ames Brothers .

Mary's Help Pap Smears

Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City is among hospitals starting to provide Pap smears for all adult women admitted there.

The chairman of the Cancer Consultative Committee of the hospital, Dr. Paul Neagle, and consultative committee member Dr. Harold P. Torkelsen annoucned the hospital's routine use of Pap smears, a method of detecting uterine cancer.

Other members of the Mary's Help Cancer Consultative Committee are Drs. Earnest Lampert, Samuel McFadden, Leo Malabed, William Dowling, James Moore, Robert Sherman and Jerome Vaeth.

Dr. Nealge pointed out that 14,000 women still die of uterine cancer in this country, even though this form of cancer is regarded as the most curable. The program at Mary's Help fits into the American Cancer Society's five-year educational achievement goal for the routine use of Pap smears for hospitalized women.

Dr. Neagle said, "Detection of uterine cancer (n the icervix or neck of the uterus) can be made with the Pap test or smear developed by the late George N. Pap anicolaou in the 1920's."

He said the ACS goal is to have 100 per cent of all women over 21 years of age go for an annual Pap test and pelvic checkup.

If detected in a very early stage, cancer of the uterus can nearly always be cured, Dr. Neagle remarked.

What is cancer of the uterus?

"It is a term used to describe either cancer of the cervix (neck) or cancer of the corpus (body) of the uterus or womb. About three-quarters of the uterine cancer occurs in the cervix, one-quarter in the corpus," he explained.

What are the symptoms?

"Unusual bleeding or discharge which may or may not mean uterine cancer is present. No need to get alarmed —it may mean nothing at all but it is a signal to consult one's physician promptly," Dr. Neagle said.

The U.S. death rate for uterine cancer has shown a steady decline during the past quarter of a century. Among white women it has been cut by almost 50 per cent in 25 years. Among Negro women, where the rate of incidence is twice as high as for white women, the death rate has been cut 40 per cent."

The widespread use of the Pap test is encouraging. Indications of the progress rate in the control of the disease are shown in findings in the following studies conducted in the United States:

In 1961, 30 out of every 100 women reported that they had the Pap test at least once; by 1963, 48 out of 100 said they had had it once; in 1966, the figure had grown to 67 in 100, or two-thirds of all women polled.

Relating these figures to the 60 million women in the United States, it is estimated that some 29 million have had the test.

ARE YOU A SALES MANAGER!
If so, does your company, your product, and your territory enable you to make a lot of money! If not, read my open letter below.
ARE YOU A TOP SALESMAN WHO WOULD LIKE TO BE A MANAGER!
If so, you, too, should read my open letter below.
Did you know that most people never find out what they're worth in the business world! An employer never evaluates how much money a man is worth. He decides how much he is willing to pay to get a job done. The job is evaluated, the man is not. The jobs I offer are man-evaluation, with more take home money as a reward. Here is my story:
In home field, exhibit, military and reload, I have openings for men in every county in Northern California and in Nevada—the best jobs in the subscription book industry. They would entail handling some of the most famous products in the world including the new Teaching Machine. Experience in our field helpful but not required. A merely average salesman sells two of our orders per week. When he works hard, he sells three or four. He earns $87.00 per order, take home pay, plus profit sharing bonus.
We have no hold backs—no reserves—no charge backs of comm. or overwrites and the company pays all expenses, and a weekly draw against comm.
A MANAGER ON THIS NEW DEAL MAKES OVER $500.00 PER WEEK, TAKE HOME, IF HE:
Has ten orders a week from his salesmen and writes two personal orders. That kind of production is very mediocre. If you were reasonably successful and had twenty-four orders per week from ten to twelve salesmen, and produced three personal orders, your take home pay would be over $1,000.00 per week.
If you are the RIGHT man, if you have a FIRE burning inside you, if you want to be SOMEBODY, we probably have a territory available for you.
Please write me, c/o Grolier Society, Inc., 1537 Bayshore Hwy., Burlingame, Calif., or call collect weekdays 692-3522, evenings and Sundays 349-3911.
ALL REPLIES IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

SSF Students Registering For Summer

South San Francisco students turned out for early registration for junior high summer school, with close to 400 by the first weekend.

Courses most sought after by the early registrants are personal use typing, sewing for yourself, survey and review of modern mathematics, arts and crafts and individual sports workshop.

Five courses are being offered in the junior high art department, including arts and crafts, ceramics, painting and sketching, paper sculpture and stitchery.

The English department also is offering five enrichment courses: Developmental reading, humor in speech and writing, reading improvement, speed reading and writing improvement.

Rocks Block S.S.F. Drive

An estimated 750 tons of mud and rock slid down off of San Bruno Mountain last week onto Hillsdale Boulevard near Chestnut Avenue in South San Francisco, partially closing the street.

County road department equipment was on the scene, cleaning up the mess.

It was reported that the slide, loosened by the recent heavy rains, did some damage to the pavement.

No homes were damaged or threatened.

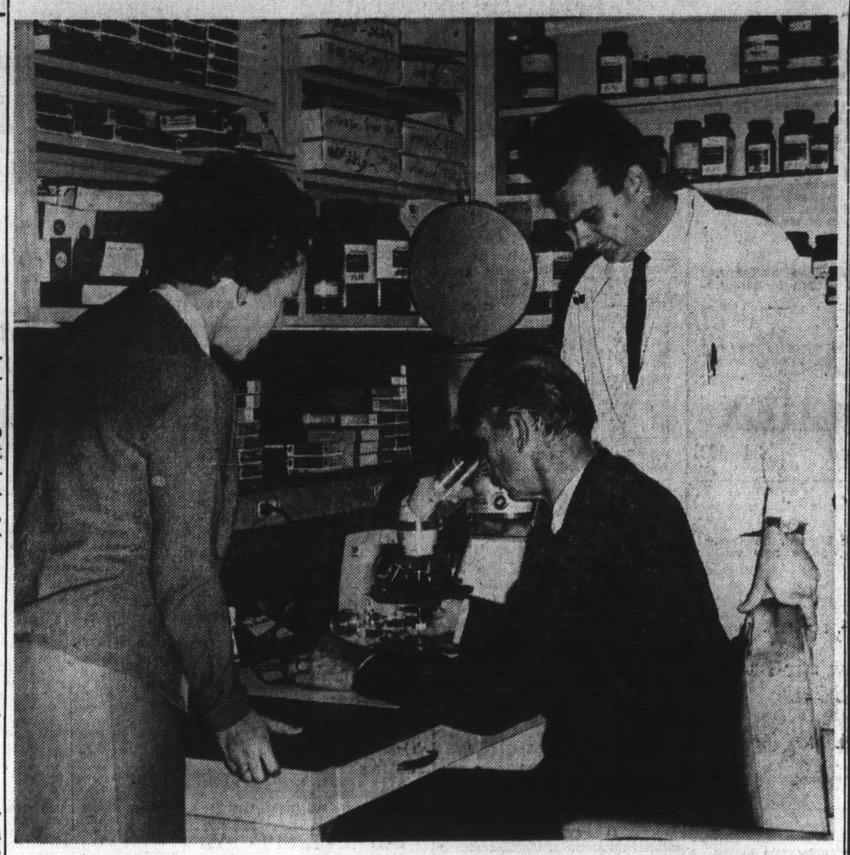
Moose Lodge Turned Down On a Permit

An application for a use permit to expand the Pacifica Moose Lodge on Reina Del Mar Avenue was in effect turned down last week when planning commissioners declared they have "no jurisdiction" in the matter.

Commissioners declined to act on the use permit application after noting the facility represents a "non-conforming use."

The lodge building is located in an "R-1" residential zone in the Vallemar district.

The commission's refusal to act on the permit, according to Planner Lawrence McLaughlin, "simply means they will have to move to another site if they want to expand their facilities."



DETECTION OF UTERINE cancer can be made with the Pap test, members of the Mary's Help Hospital Cancer Consultative Committee reminded when they announced that th Daly City Hospital would provide the test for all adult women admitted there. Shown are Dr. Harold P. Torkelson (seated), a member of the Cancer Consultative Committee; Richard Gill, cytotechnologist at Mary's Help; and Mrs. Charles A. Jones, a cured uterine cancer patient who is a member of the Daly City Unit of the American Cancer Society. (Post Photo)

$600 Theft From Home In Daly City

More than $600 worth of household items was stolen from the James Spencer Dee home at 820 North Mayfair Avenue in Daly City Sunday.

Included in the list of items taken was a television set, stereo unit, gold wristwatch, miscellaneous jewelry, a pillow case and rifle.

Police said the burglar forced his way into the residence through a dining room window.
